BULLDOGS

Chapel becomes reality on Goodman Campus

By Jennifer Thompson

Approximately eight years ago, four members of the Holmes Community College staff met in Dr. Starkey A. Morgan's office to discuss the idea of building a chapel, a place of meditation and reflection, on the Goodman Campus.

The four members present—the late Dr. Marilyn Burrell, Dr. Morgan, Director of Admissions and Records Gene Richardson, and Special Assistant to the President for Alumni Wilbur Harpole, all placed their hands on the chapel brochure and prayed that the chapel would someday become a reality, a dream that reached fruition in the spring of 2003 when the Chapel on the Hill was completed.

Richardson stated, "Dr. Morgan discovered the need for such a building after he was hospitalized in 1995. He thought of the idea while recuperating at home. He basically wanted a place to fill a spiritual void that he thought was evident on this campus."

Thus, the chapel was constructed to meet the spiritual, emotional, and inspirational needs of students at Holmes and the community at large.

In the early states of development, the original plans placed the chapel adjacent to McDaniel Hall where the old security building once stood; but after many meetings the site was moved to the site formerly occupied by Webster Hall. When Webster Hall was razed, the bricks were salvaged to build the new chapel.

Now, when one looks in the distance, eyes unfocused, there is a kaleidoscope of color, as sunshine streams through stained-glass windows designed by Pearl River Glass Studio in Jackson and artist Andrew Young, who painted each of the center symbols.

The chapel was constructed entirely with donations. Several people donated significant items to the chapel, such as a Steinway piano given by Jo Betty Rosier and money for a prayer room and tower given by Senator and Mr. John Keeton. Roy Taylor was instrumental in getting the building off the ground in the early stages; and Don and Sue Phillips donated funds to construct and landscape the courtyard area. The late J. C. and Nina Goolsby donated the funds to purchase an Allen organ.

A plaque in the chapel foyer bears the names of every donor. Larger items such as doors, pews, windows, etc. also display individual plaques naming the donor/s of the particular item.

The chapel will portray a special atmosphere at Holmes Community College and add an additional element of elegance and pride to the campus.

Candice Edwards married in Chapel on the Hill

Candice Edwards Parish solidified her place in Holmes Community College history this summer as she was the first to get married in Holmes' Chapel on the Hill.

Parish, a 1996 graduate of HCC and a standout student athlete, said she wondered if the wedding would take place on the Goodman Campus.

"I was excited to have the first wedding in the chapel," Parish said. "I was just thrilled to have our wedding somewhere that I felt was 'home'. My church I grew up in, in Lexington, was never an option since it is so small, and when I realized the chapel would be finished by May, I jumped at the chance to have our wedding there.

"I even changed my mind about having it at the chapel at first because I was so scared the chapel's construction would not be complete," she added. "Things have a way of working out, and I am so thankful I came back to Holmes to the Chapel on the Hill."

Parish described the chapel as beautiful and the architecture as "breathtaking."

"I'm sure the students, and the alumni, as I did, will use it in numerous ways," Parish said. "I would definitely recommend the chapel for weddings.

"Of course I'm bias, but I felt the ceremony was so personal, mostly due to the chapel's simple, but elegant and classy structure," she added. "I believe my favorite part of the chapel is the arch where the prayer room is located. Words can not describe. Jason's favorite was the outside structure."

Having the wedding on the Goodman Campus was made more special because her parents, Dan and Maria Edwards, both teach at Holmes and her sister and maid of honor, Bethy, attended Holmes as well. Dan teaches history courses and Maria teaches both Spanish and French. Dan is also a Holmes graduate.

My mom would check up on me every now and then and make sure I was studying, but they both gave me enough independence," Parish said of her time at HCC. "It was fun playing softball for my dad. He was a little harder on me sometimes, but that was expected.

"Anytime I get a chance to go home, I usually go by Holmes, just to have lunch with them, and I even get to see some of my former teachers. It's literally like going home every time I visit campus."

Bethy also played softball and basketball for Holmes and was a member of PTK just as Parish was.

Jamie Sample, J.J. Downs and Jim Haffey also were involved in the wedding and all attended Holmes.

As a student at Holmes Community College, Edwards was a solid performer on both the softball and basketball teams. She made the Juco All-Star team in basketball her sophomore year and was named All-State and All-Region both her freshman and sophomore years in softball. She was also named Academic All-American for basketball and softball and the 1996 softball team received Academic All-American status her sophomore year. The team went to the state tournament both years.

Parish said she is thankful that Dr. Morgan allowed her father to start the first softball team at Holmes Community College her freshman year.

"I was attending summer school in '94, and a friend and I begged Dr. Morgan to have a team," Parish said. "I'm not sure exactly how it played out, but Dr. Morgan asked my dad to coach Holmes' first Women's softball team. We wanted fast pitch, but none of the other community colleges were playing fast pitch at the time in Mississippi. So we settled for slow pitch, but we were thankful

"Those two years playing collegiate sports were some of the best memories of my life," she said. "I remember missing the camaraderie of being part of a team, especially at Holmes."

Parish was not just an athlete at Holmes. She said she tried to be a part of every group on campus.

She was secretary for the Student Government Association, a member of Phi Theta Kappa, Holmes Hall of Fame and was elected to the Homecoming Court her freshman and sophomore years.

Parish has fond memories of Phi Theta Kappa.

"We had a great time," Parish said. "Most people might think 'how can the honor society be fun?' Well, we went to Alabama for a summer meeting. I can't remember a lot about it, but Steve Deaton and Julia Williams took us. We met so many people at other junior colleges, and we even saw them again when we went to Washington D.C. my sophomore year.

"I can remember going to Goodman-Pickens Elementary and reading to the students," she added. "We did a lot of good things, and we received many good things in return (like scholarships for being a member when we transferred to Sr. colleges)."

She was nominated to the All-Mississippi Academic Team her sophomore year. She was also the women's basketball representative for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

After leaving Holmes, Parish went to the University of Southern Mississippi, where she graduated in May 1998 with a degree in nursing. She said a leadership scholarship, recommended by Dr. Morgan and Williams, paid her tuition at USM.

She has gone on two medical mission trips with Dr. Sam Massey and several of her friends from Holmes. She, Misty Golden (Lacey) and Casey Wallace (Burgdorf) went to Mexico. Then a year later she went to Romania.

She has worked for Mississippi Baptist Medical Center in Jackson, home health in Lexington, University Hospital in Lexington and now travels as a nurse. She met her husband on an assignment in Oakland, Calif.

Jason Parish works for an industrial construction company as a project manager and moves after the completion of each project.

"The flexibility and demand in nursing makes it easy for me to find a position wherever we are relocated," Candice said. "I usually sign a 13-week contract wherever Jason's company sends him. We plan on doing this for a few years. One day we will settle down in the great state of Mississippi, hopefully.

"Attending Holmes was awesome," Parish said. "I made some of the best friends that I still have today, received a great education and made memories that I will never forget. The old saying is true, 'there is no place like Holmes!'"

Holmes' SGA is everywhere

By Amber Blackstock

You may ask, "What is SGA and what does it do?"

Many SGA activities can be seen around the campus of Holmes Community College.

SGA or Student Government Association puts spirit into our campus in many ways.

It tries to get students involved through the many activities it hosts around campus. The organization tries to set up events for everyone to enjoy.

They have functions ranging from movies to dances. There is always something for everyone to enjoy.

One of our own members, Elizabeth Oredein, is Miss Bully, one of the cheerleader mascots.

One activity that is planned at the beginning of school each year to get students involved is the Bulldog Bash. This is a gathering held to encourage students to meet new people and make new friends. Then there is movie night, which is hosted twice a month and open to all. Other events held throughout the school year are Fall Fest, Spring Fling, Homecoming, bingo, pep rallies, etc....

SGA is a great way to mingle with people.

The sponsor, Ceressa Sims thinks SGA is "a very vital organization on campus which affords leadership opportunities for students."

So next time you hear of an activity around campus, come and check it out. You will likely meet new people, make new friends and just have a great time!

Making Holmes Home Away from Home

By Wendy Boyd

As you leave home and journey off to college you should want to make your college life exciting and as much like home as possible.

There are people here to lift your spirit and make your surroundings feel like a home away from home. You have your friends, cheerful people on campus, and most of all, a loving staff that can assist you with any problem that you might have.

Many people like me don't feel that they are away from home because they are still so close to home. There are some people that are miles and even states away from home. They need to feel as if they are loved and cared for as they were at home. There are faculty members that try to keep the campus spirit alive.

Bill Watkins, chairman of the fine art department, feels that the faculty recalls their own college experiences and the spirit they had then; and they try to bring some of that spirit to Holmes Community College.

He says it is harder for those who have been out of school for 35 years, as he has.

Ms. A (Linda Alexander) states: "I've always been a firm believer in trying to be a cheerful person, even when things are going a little crazy in my office, or my life! I think it is easier to be a cheerful person when you love your job and the place where you work, and I really do.

"It is important for faculty and staff to be as supportive of campus activities as possible, because it gives students an opportunity to see you in a different role. School spirit is something that comes easily for me. I suppose it is because I started working here as the director of student activities in 1992, and it was my job to boost school spirit and campus participation.

"I try to make my office a comfortable, home-away-from-home refuge. (OK, right now it looks like a war zone!)"

Alexander feels it is especially important for students living in residents halls to have faculty /staff here on campus with whom they feel comfortable. Homesickness is quite common even for students who feel they are very independent. Campus spirit can be kept alive by Holmes employees being friendly and involved in as many campus activities as possible.

Cheerleaders, band bring out a different spirit

By Nick White

Can you imagine going to an athletic event and not seeing a cheerleading squad or hearing a school band?

It seems that one must surely have the other.

Spirit motivators such as cheerleaders, dazblers and color guard inspire the crowds to stand and cheer for the players to attempt to do their best.

The band is always a welcome asset to any sporting event because its rhythmic music seems to fill veins of even the most passive bystander.

Since these performers at sporting events evidently inspire the teams and audiences with school spirit, a fitting question would have to be: what fills them with the spirit of the school?

To answer this question, one must first look at how a school plays a part in the lives of its students.

While in college, most students' home is the campus itself. The students become a family and learn to cooperate with their fellow peers. In doing this, a kind of support for each other develops. The cheerleaders know all the players on the football team; members of the band have roommates on the basketball team; etc. With all this intermingling of students, it is no doubt that each wants to support the other.

Another possibility is that the students on the athletic teams, cheerleading squads, color guard, dazblers and band feel a sense of gratitude toward their college. The teams want to represent their school well in each game.

The cheerleaders want to yell and scream their spirit to all who will listen. The color guards and dazblers want to make each performance count; and the band practices relentlessly so they can enliven the audience with music.

Having school spirit is more than being peppy all the time. School spirit is what someone feels toward an institution that has given him or her so much.

It is more than merely wanting the school's student body to achieve its best; it is contributing to this achievement.

BSU, Wesley, FCA give students what they need

By Andrea Holotanko

During one's years in college, it is very easy to drift away from one's walk with the Lord. Organizations such as BSU, FCA, and the Wesley Foundation, provide students with guidance, encouragement, counseling, and Christian friends.

BSU has BSU Blast every Tuesday night starting at seven. At these weekly meetings, there is a band and a time of worship. There are guest speakers such as present and former students, pastors, and evangelists.

BSU hosts many projects and activities throughout the year such as after-game parties and back-to-school parties. They hold dorm devotions once a week in Choctaw and Attala dorms. Backyard Bible clubs are held frequently at apartment complexes in Goodman. Also, every year BSU has their spring-break mission trip. Spring break of 2003, they spent a week in Memphis working with the street reach ministry doing Bible clubs with kids on the street. Also, they devoted some of their time in Memphis toward fixing homes for families.

Stacey Jolley, sophomore BSU member of the Goodman campus, says, "As Christians, it is hard enough to live a Christ-like life. Then, you come to college and it's even more challenging. Organizations such as BSU, FCA, and the Wesley Foundation, know the struggle that students face and that's exactly why they are here. They reach out to students Christian and Non-Christian alike. It is very encouraging to know that God is allowed to be acknowledged at Holmes Community College."

FCA, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, has meetings once a week, usually on Wednesday night. They have guest speakers about once a month and they have activities such as Easter egg hunts and 3-point and dunk contests. The athletes counsel at Weekend of Champions. Approximately 500 Mississippi high school athletes attend the event at Hinds Community College. In the spring, members of FCA attend the College Getaway. The College Getaway is in Macon, and athletes from Ole Miss and other colleges in the area spend the weekend. Also, the athletes speak at high school banquets where they share spiritual insight and strength with the athletes in the area.

FCA sponsor, Chanda Rigby, says, "The goal of FCA is to challenge athletes, coaches, and all whom they influence with the adventure of serving Christ. Through outreach programs and in campus ministries, FCA has a large impact on people's lives."

It is easy to give in to temptations that come along with college life. BSU, FCA and the Wesley Foundation provide a place to hang out, accountability, and they give students an alternative route.

Phi Theta Kappa: An Asset to HCC

By Amanda La'Shel Johnsey and Staff

HCC honors its outstanding scholars by allowing them the opportunity to be apart of a two-year college honor society known to you as Phi Theta Kappa.

These select individuals must have a cumulative GPA of 3.5 or higher on 12 hours of associate degree work to become a Phi Theta Kappan. The minimum GPA required to remain a member of our chapter, Kappa Alpha, is 3.0.

Every two years, PTK selects an interdisciplinary Honors Study Topic for each chapter to study. This year's topic is "Directions of Health: Choices in the Maze."

Through our ever-so popular sidewalk cafe and our Wisconsin cheese fund-raisers, we take the moneys that we accumulate and divide it between St. Jude Research Hospital in Memphis and the American Cancer Society.

These contributions are just one of the many ways that we are help others through our study topic.

For those of you who were unaware that we participate also in community service, I, along with Natlie McLellan, Terry Cox, and several of our officers and alumni officers, participated in the Kosciusko Relay for Life in August. We collected money, decorated, placed and lit the luminaries in honor and memory of cancer patients. All those who participated agree with me by stating that was a very heart-touching moment in our lives.

Although incorrectly stereotyped by many, PTK is not merely a club that exists for the sole purpose of uniting intellectual people. In fact, PTK binds individuals into a "national family" with a sole purpose and desire of finding ways to not only better ourselves, but also our communities, college, and our world by means of leadership, service, scholarship and fellowship.

Our treasurer, Jacob Peeler, said, "Phi Theta Kappa makes me strive to be the best in school as well as on the football field."

I could not agree with Jacob more. PTK provides the opportunity for its members to develop confidence and leadership roles both inside and outside the chapter.

Our chapter, Kappa Alpha, is spearheaded by three of the finest advisors here at HCC. Without the positive attitudes, perseverance and dedication of Julia Williams, Natalie McLellan and this year's newest advisor, Andrew Kelly, our chapter would not be nearly as successful as it is.

As president of PTK, Kappa Alpha Chapter, I have learned through Leadership Conferences, Satellite Seminars, my advisors and by working with my outstanding officers, how vital this organization is to the world around us. This prestigious organization not only pushes students for academic excellence; it also provides the opportunity for individuals to make a difference in their lives and those lives around them.

Grenada's PTK Chapter, Alpha Mu Beta, had a busy first semester in 2003.

In September, Alpha Mu Beta co-sponsored the John Rosemond Seminar, Meet Me at the Pole, a voter registration drive and a prayer walk.

In October, Grenada's PTK held a chemical dependency seminar, a booth for Breast Cancer Awareness Week, Operation Christmas Child, Make a Difference Day and a pumpkin decorating contest.

In November, Grenada's PTK was selling cheese as well. They also did Operation Christmas Family and the Great American Smokeout. In December, the USA Academic All-American Team was chosen.

Also, Alpha Mu Beta wrote a mini Grant through the HCC Foundation to sponsor the honor's institute satellite seminars "Dimensions and Directions of Health: Choices in the Maze." No word was given on the grant at printing time.

Sumners Trust program major accomplishment in 2003

Holmes Community College President Dr. Starkey A. Morgan, Sr. is winding down his 15th year as president of the institution and 2003-04 has been a big year for the college.

Highlighting this school year was Holmes' inclusion in the group of schools which benefit from the Mr. and Mrs. E.H. Sumners Trust and the announcement of an industrial training center on the Ridgeland Campus which would provide key training in the area. Madison County supervisors pledged their support in the project.

In the 2004 spring semester Holmes students hailing from Attala, Webster, Montgomery, Choctaw and Carroll Counties will become beneficiaries of the generosity and community spirit of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sumners. Attorney John Sumner of Winona and his brother, James C. "Jim" Sumner, nephews and administrators of the Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sumners Trust, administer the trust which provides scholarships to students at The University of Mississippi, Mississippi State University, Millsaps College, the University of Mississippi Medical Center and now Holmes Community College.

Funding for the scholarship program comes from the Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Sumners Foundation, established by Mrs. Sumners in 1977 in accordance with her husband's will. The trust was the culmination of years of hard work and business acumen dating back to the early years of the last century.

To address these ever pressing needs for educational facilities, college administrators together with local business leaders developed the plan to construct a 50,000 sq. ft. facility costing approximately $8.5 million. To illustrate the need for such a complex, Holmes anticipated training 5,000 people, which was a 271 percent training increase from when the department originally opened. Officials then realized the numbers would be closer to 10,000 individuals, which meant the institution needed more space.

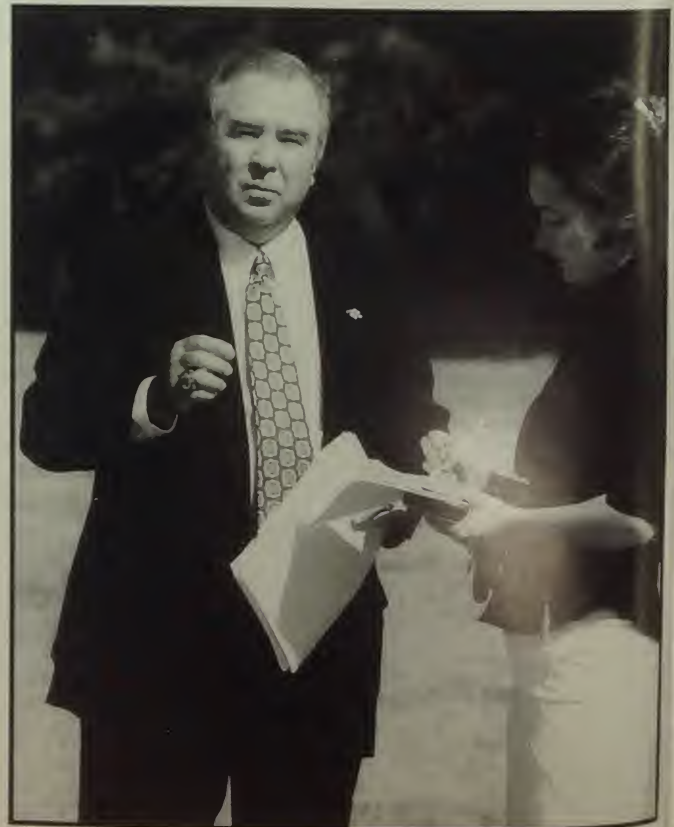

Community leaders also believe the new center will enhance growth opportunities for an already booming Madison County economy. The facility will conduct training in areas such as robotics, industrial maintenance, welding, industrial electricity, machining, forklift operations, computer training, industrial safety, supervisory and leadership courses as well as continuing to provide company-specific training.

When Dr. Morgan became president in 1989, Holmes had some 1,986 students during the fall semester on all campuses. Numbers since that time have been on the rise and in fall 2003 numbers hit their all-time high on all campuses. The Ridgeland Campus led the way with 1,630 students while the Goodman Campus followed with 1,238 and Grenada had 936. This means Holmes has increased from 1,986 to 3,804, an increase of 1,818 students or some 91.54 percent since Dr. Morgan became president.

The Goodman Campus also saw the Chapel on the Hill completed and then dedicated on graduation day last spring. Students, faculty and community people also saw the walking trail on the west side of the campus near the Holmes Lake reach fruition.

Occupational Therapy Assistants, Changing One Life at a Time

Jennifer Thompson
Editor

Some people walk through life not realizing how lucky they are to be able to perform everyday activities without any problems. This is not the same for people who have had traumatic injuries, strokes, Alzheimer's disease, or mental health problems. When people experience something like that, they often have difficulties getting dressed, eating, walking and have many other problems. This is when an Occupational Therapy Assistant comes in and helps the individual regain the independence and enjoy life to the fullest.

This program would not be possible without two extraordinary women, Penny Rogers and Christy Morgan. These two women have been teaching this program since it became available at the Ridgeland Campus in 1999. Before teaching the Occupational Therapy Assistant (OTA), Morgan was an Occupational Therapist working with patients young and old. When she was a practicing Occupational Therapist, she worked with a home health program, the Neonatal Intensive Care Area, patients who had suffered strokes, hip replacements, and patients who needed acute care. "I love teaching this program, it gives me a sense of satisfaction knowing I'm helping someone, so they may go help others," Morgan said. Penny Rogers was practicing as an Occupational Therapist for eight years before teaching at Holmes. She worked with a home health program and in a nursing home helping individuals. "We have had three classes to graduate from this program. Their self-motivation and dedication makes this program possible," Rogers says.

Becky is demonstrating a case study on a fellow student. Becky is a second year OTA student working on her field studies.

To become a student in the OTA program, there are only a few requirements to be accepted into the program, such as: volunteer hours in an Occupational Therapy clinic, an interview in front of the OTA Admissions Council and have references. OTAs help children and adults gaining skills needed to take part in meaningful occupations-from dressing and feeding themselves, to work, school, leisure and community pursuits. The OTAs see the struggles the individuals go through, so they confront these problems and suggest innovative tools and techniques to help the patients perform daily tasks and gain more independence in their lives. "Even though I haven't actually started working with patients I feel like I will make a difference in someone's life. It is such a great feeling," said Mary McCormick, first year OTA student.

Once students receive their associate's degree, they must sit for the Certification Examination for Certified Occupational Therapy Assistants prepared by the National Board for Certification in Occupational Therapy (NBCOT). After successfully passing the examination, graduates become Certified Occupational Therapy Assistants (COTA).

Once a graduate is certified the job possibilities are amazing. The job opportunities range from working at the following: nursing/retirement homes, pediatric hospitals, home health agencies, mental health centers, outpatient clinics and rehabilitation centers. A COTA may proceed to receive a bachelor's degree in Occupational Therapy to become a Registered Occupational Therapist (ROT). The only big difference between a COTA and a ROT is the fact that at certain points in a patient's care a COTA must be supervised by an ROT every 30 days or so.

This field of study is very promising. Students must possess the qualities such as integrity, being self-motivated, creative, and have problem-solving skills.

Jennifer, second year OTA student, is giving her case study on a peer.

Auto Body Technology, "Getting you back on the road"

By Jeffery Riley

Auto Body Technology instructor, Eddie Ellis, began his formal training in 1975 here at Holmes Community College, then Holmes Junior College, graduating with a two-year degree in 1977.

Alonzo Horn, who was the instructor when the program started at Holmes, was Ellis' mentor.

After receiving his degree, Ellis was employed in the private sector until he returned in 1983 to assume the position of Auto Body Technology instructor, following Horn's sudden death earlier that year.

Five hours of classroom instruction per week is required in the program. The remainder of the required time each week is spent in the workshop.

Here the students actually apply skills and techniques that have been taught in the classroom, preparing them for future jobs as technicians in the workforce.

Rules and regulations are strict in the program-rubber gloves that are provided at the washer must be worn; each day after instruction and work floors must be swept, tools put away, air hoses rolled up and all trash picked up. Before leaving for the day the shop must be ready for the next day's activities.

Shop supplies are very expensive. The Holmes Community College Auto Body Technology department uses top grade supplies on automobiles to produce an excellent job.

According to Ellis, CHEAP DOES NOT LAST! Paint guns can cost from $250 to $450 each. The paint booth itself costs $42,000. At these prices, all products and equipment must be handled with care. The cost of refinishing an automobile is $200 to $400.

Numerous students have graduated with a two-year degree in this program to become successful in their positions as auto body technicians.

Instructor Eddie Ellis, above, does some last minute taping.

PAINT CAR PREP – STEPS TO REFINISHING

1. Wash with hot soapy water or wipe down.
2. Examine the car closely look for all scratches, dings, rust, dents, etc.
3. Take a marker or a pencil and mark everything to be repaired. (Once you sand the paint, the damage is usually lost. The only way to find it is with a cloth or with your hand or by block sanding it).
4. Remove all hardware or items that need to be taken off before beginning work.
5. Rough out the damages (hammer and dolly or pull rod). There are 13 to 15 methods to repair a dent, covered in metal finishing.
6. Grind metal or paint, rewash it, check it with your hand-that is the test-touch (Hammer and dolly again if needed, you might have to repeat this process 3 to 4 times).
7. Body filler is applied-stay with your works. Do not leave body filler if it gets too hard, you will have to sand rather than cheese.
8. Put enough filler on the damage. You have to be higher than the original contour in order to take it back down to the contour. If you are sitting low after the first application, repeat process with filler.
9. If the filler is smooth, then you are ready to block sand or air sand body filler with 36 or 40 grit paper.
10. Once the low spots are out, you are ready for 80 grit. Further feather the body filler to a smooth edge where the filler blends into the metal.
11. You will have to leave the filler a touch high. For this reason, if the 80 grit takes it exactly level, then you won't have any room to featheredge filler with 180 grit sandpaper. 80 grit scratches are too much to fill with primer.
12. Finished with all the bodywork, decide what grit paper you want to sand the car with. It is best to wet sand with 400 grit. It is smoother, cleaner, causes less dust, the paper lasts longer and the paint job will probably have much less dust or trash.
13. Finish sanding. Wash the car off and let it dry.
14. Mask the car.
15. Wipe down and prime.
16. Two-part primer (urethane) must dry. Bake at least one hour, air dry about three hours.
17. Wet sand with 400 grit or 600 grit for the best finish to paint over.
18. You might even have to sand with 240 or 320, but you must reprime or use at least two coats of sealer.
19. After sanding, wash and clean, remask if needed, and let dry.
20. Wipe it down with a tack cloth. Do not touch an automobile after it has been wiped down.
21. Have your paint mixed, have clothes ready to go on, and have the paint gun ready and begin spraying.
22. You must always unmask the automobile before you leave. It is a must!

Licensed Practical Nursing, "Health care is the place to be"

By Phylis Stahl
Assistant Co-Editor

If you are like everybody else then you are looking for a major with a job guarantee.

So now you are thinking, what is the major? Well, it is nursing!

For the past sixteen years the Ridgeland Campus of Holmes has offered a one-year LPN program. From August until July you can work on being LPN certified.

Each day nursing students go to classes that are taught by two teachers. During the first semester, the students are required to complete nineteen hours of nursing classes. One day a week the students have clinical and lab.

While in lab the students practice on each other. However, while in clinical the students work with real patients. They take blood pressure and even give shots.

Each year only 32 studying nurses are accepted. Each of these "nurses to be" are required to score at least a sixteen on their ACT with a twelve in both reading and mathematics. They are also required to be high school graduates and at least eighteen years of age.

After completing their year of LPN school, they must then take a computerized State Board Test. Once they pass the test they are considered licensed LPN's. Every two years each nurse must renew his/her license.

Before the test was computerized each state had a score that they considered passing. Now each student takes the test on the computer and must answer anywhere from eighty-two to two hundred fifty questions. It all depends on how correctly or incorrectly they are answering the questions.

However, to go to a different state to work, you must pay a fee and provide documentation that you have completed the required classes and passed the State Board Test before receiving a license to work as a nurse in that state.

Becoming a licensed LPN enables you to work as a bedside nurse, do basic patient care or work in dialysis. After working as an LPN for one year, nurses can then go back to study IV Therapy.

Just imagine how many great jobs are offered for licensed LPN nurses. After studying for just one year in Ridgeland and passing the State Board Test, you can have a world of opportunity to get a great job as a nurse in any hospital.

If you are still looking for that perfect major, maybe you should look at the LPN program on Ridgeland Campus of Holmes.

Surgical Technology Program, "Surgical Tech rakes in honors"

By Nieisha Bibbs

Holmes Community College offers a plentiful variety of technical education courses, one in which is surgical technology located and offered only at the Grenada Center.

Surgical Technology is a program that prepares students to perform as affiliates of a team of professional surgeons. Students are trained to work well with anesthesiologists, surgeons, registered nurses, and other surgical personnel.

The concept they must grasp is all aspects of surgical technology includes proper deliverance of patient care, role of assistants, duties of being accountable and conscientious throughout surgery, medical terminology, and medical/legal aspects.

The HCC Surgical Technology Program also offers classroom and clinical experiences for entry-level surgical technologists. Clinic training is performed at area hospitals including Grenada Lake Medical Center, Greenwood Leflore Hospital, Oktibbeha, Baptist Memorial Hospitals and Oxford University Medical Center.

This year's core curriculum hasn't changed very much but there has been an increase in applications received.

Program director Jessica Elliott said, "Every year 15 students are accepted into the program through process and evaluation yet the increase in applicants has resulted in much competition."

The program has recently received the Pae Elite Twenty Program Award from the Accreditation Review Committee On Education in Surgical Technology. HCC Surgical Tech program was the only program in the state of Mississippi to score in the top twenty on the mandatory program assessment evaluation for accredited programs. The Surgical Technology program held fourth place on a top twenty list of 361 accredited programs to take the exam. Success after success, the surgical Technology Program received its accreditation in the year 2000 and will be recognized in Washington D.C. at the national Convention as part of the AST Galaxy Program.

Elliott has been the only instructor of Surgical Technology for eight years. She is responsible for management and administration of the program including planning, evaluation, budgeting and general effectiveness of the program. She is also responsible for developing and teaching courses in the surgical technology program curriculum, supervising Clinical Education, and performing other duties.

She is a mother of three: Anita Nicole 15, Xavier 11, and Tarilyn 6. She is also Wesley Foundation Board advisor, Craft committee member for Grenada's High School's Allied Health program, chaperone for the GHS band, and the wife of Terry Elliott, current HCC student and supervisor trainee at Outokumpu HeatCraft Industries.

Leadership surrounds Elliott and her family because she is also state secretary-treasurer and legislative delegate for the Mississippi State Association of Surgical Technologists.

Elliott's words of encouragement vary positively but mainly she instills in her students to do their best. The best has shown in her 2003 graduates, for instance: Casey Harris, who got a job in a dermatologist clinic and Cynthia Granderson who got a job at Mississippi Baptist Medical Center in the surgical department.

Three Lamplighters chosen for 2003-2004

Convention held at Golden Moon Casino in Choctaw, Miss.

Believing "that faculty are critically important in the building of a community of learning," in the spring of 1990, the Mississippi Community/Junior College Academic Dean's Association and Hinds Community College assumed the leadership role in what has become the Lamplighter Project.

The three major objectives of the Lamplighter Project are: to recognize and reward effective teaching in the Mississippi community and junior colleges, to give effective instructors an opportunity to share with one another those teaching techniques that promote learning, to give classroom instructors exposure to classroom research.

The 2003 Lamplighter Conference, sponsored by East Central Community College, was held Sept. 24-26 at the Golden Moon Casino in Choctaw, Miss.

Each representative of the institutions selected for this honor is recommended by his or her respective academic dean and in turn the president. Holmes faculty members chosen to represent the college at the conference are Bill Watkins, Goodman Campus; Katrina Myricks, Ridgeland Campus; Joe Fondren, Grenada Center.

Bill Watkins

Clarksdale native Bill Watkins, chairman of the Goodman Campus fine arts department, is a visual arts instructor. He holds a bachelor's degree in art from Delta State University and a master's degree from Louisiana State University at

The three Lamplighters from Holmes came from each of the three campuses. Pictured are Joe Fondren, Grenada; Katrina Myricks, Ridgeland; and Bill Watkins, Goodman.

Monroe. He has also attended Savannah College of Art and Design and the University of Mississippi.

Watkins' background and past experiences consist of museum director, high school and community college art instructor, activities director and freelance designer. He has appeared in musical and drama productions and acted in an independent film in the summer of 2003.

His artworks have appeared in private and corporate collections in both the U.S. and abroad, with ceramic productions in Chicago and Madison.

Since Watkins has been at Holmes, he has written and performed a one-man piece on Van Gogh.

Theater, singing and writing are a few of his many hobbies.

Katrina Myricks

A former student at Holmes, Katrina Myricks has been the equity coordinator on the Goodman Campus and is now an instructor of business and office technology on the Ridgeland Campus. In addition to her associate's degree from Holmes, Myricks received a bachelor's degree in computer information from Delta State University in 1986 and a master's degree from Mississippi State University in technical studies in 1992. She has also attended Jackson State University continuing her education in counseling.

She and her husband Kenneth, an Allstate Insurance marketing business consultant, and their young daughter, Kaitlin, make their home in Madison.

She enjoys reading, pageants, modeling and community service in her spare time.

Myricks was Homecoming Queen while at Holmes and has also represented the state as a Mrs. Mississippi.

Joe Fondren

A counselor at the Grenada Center, Joe Fondren calls Oxford his home. He is a two-year college product, holding an associate's degree from East Central Community College. He also received a bachelor's degree from Mississippi College in 1974 and master's degree from the University of Southern Mississippi in 1976.

Joe and his wife Sandy, a registered nurse, reside in Grenada. In his spare time he enjoys hunting, fishing, camping, snow skiing and traveling.

Kathryn Ulven

Diane Stoddard

Higher Education Appreciation Day Working for Academic Excellence, or H.E.A.D.W.A.E. recognizes outstanding faculty members and students from each of the state's colleges.

The program was begun in 1988 by Cecil Simmons, a Mississippi state representative. Those selected are invited in the spring to the state Capitol to spend the day. In addition to attending a luncheon in their honor they are presented to the Senate and the House of Representatives.

This year's faculty representative is Diane Stoddard, mathematics instructor on Holmes' Ridgeland Campus; while the student representative is Ridgeland Campus sophomore Kathryn Jo Ulven, a nursing major.

Recipients of the two honors are selected by a committee appointed by Dr. Starkey A. Morgan Sr., Holmes Community College president. The instructor's selection is on merit; the student's criteria includes selection based on grade-point average and difficulty of courses taken while a student at Holmes Community College.

Stoddard has been a math instructor on the Ridgeland Campus for 16 years. She is also a community college product, having received an associate degree in math from Southwest Mississippi Junior College. Stoddard received both a bachelor's and master's degree in math from the University of Southern Mississippi and has additional study at Mississippi College and Mississippi State University.

The Holmes instructor is a member of various professional organizations among which are the Mississippi Council of Teachers of Mathematics, Mississippi Collegiate Mathematics Association, currently serving a vice president; and Trainer, Middle School Mathematics Content Improvement-Mississippi Department of Education. She conducts various in-service training workshops for current educators on how to teach math to children.

Since at Holmes Stoddard has been a 1996 Lamplighter; received a 1998 NISOD Excellence Award; chosen for Who's Who Among America's Teachers; and nominated for Madison County Chamber of Commerce Educator of the Year for Holmes Community College.

She and her daughter, Katherine, are residents of Madison.

The college's student H.E.A.D.W.A.E. scholar, a Madison Central High School graduate, is Kathryn Jo Ulven, daughter of Jerrold and Jan Ulven of Ridgeland.

Ulven has maintained a 4.0 grade point average while a Holmes student and has been named to the National Dean's List and the Holmes President's List. She is the vice president of scholarship for Phi Theta Kappa, scholastic honorary society for two-year college students. She received the National Collegiate Mathematics Award, Physical Science Award, Mathematics Award, English Composition Award, and is a member of the Honors College.

Ulven plans to pursue a bachelor's degree in nursing and eventually become an anesthesiologist.

Five students named to All-Academic Team

Five students from Holmes Community College were selected to represent the college as members of the 2003 Mississippi All-State Academic Team. This was coordinated by Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society, the Mississippi Association of Community and Junior Colleges, the State Board for Community and Junior Colleges and the Clarion Ledger.

Each chapter in the state chooses two of its members to represent them on the All-State Academic Team. The selection is based on the students' scholastic achievements, community involvement, leadership capabilities and college service activities. The judges choose 10 students as members of the first team based on their application, an essay written by the student and recommendations from faculty members.

Mitchell Harville

A secondary education major at the Grenada Center, Mitchell Harville of Grenada, was named to the National Dean's List.

While at Holmes he was the recipient of a Dean's Scholarship and the Frank B. Branch Scholarship.

Both his freshman and sophomore years he was a member of the Alpha Mu Beta Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and the Student Government Association, serving both organizations as president his sophomore year.

Harville also served as a Holmes Ambassador. He was a member of the Holmes Community College Creative Arts Club, placing second in the literary criticism essay category in the local writing contest. He received honorable mention for a literary criticism essay submitted at the state level contest sponsored by the Mississippi Creative Writers Association.

Amanda Johnsey

A native of Grenada, Amanda

Johnsey was a radiology major on the Goodman Campus.

While at Holmes she served as a tutor for Student Support Services, president of the Kappa Alpha Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, a member of the Steel Band, Jazz Band, Symphonic Band, and Drum Major for the Bulldog Marching Band. Johnsey also served as a Holmes Ambassador and a Dazzler!, dancing and cheering at home basketball games.

She was chosen a Freshman Class Favorite and Student Body Maid in the homecoming court her sophomore year.

Named to the National Dean's List, Johnsey was the recipient of a Dean's Scholarship and an English Composition Achievement Award.

Philip Metcalf

The recipient of a Dean's Scholarship, Philip Metcalf was a Ridgeland Campus business administration major from Jackson.

While at Holmes he served as finance officer for the Alpha Lambda Sigma Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa and treasurer of the Student Government Association.

Metcalf was also a Holmes Ambassador, member of the Honors Forum class, Scholar's Bowl Team and Campus Christian Ministries.

Maintaining a 4.0 GPA, he was a President's List scholar, planning to obtain an MBA and seek employment in a business management or marketing position.

Jacob Peeler

A Goodman Campus special education major from Kosciusko, Jacob Peeler was involved in a number of activities including Future Educators of America; Fellowship of Christian Athletes; and Phi Theta Kappa, serving the Kappa Alpha Chapter as treasurer.

Peeler was also a Holmes Ambassador and captain of the football team. He received a Dean's Scholarship, BellSouth Endowed Scholarship and the 1950 Holmes Junior College Football Team Athletic Scholarship.

Chosen First Team All-State and First Team All-Region in football, Peeler was also selected to play on the Mississippi Association of Junior and Community College All-Star Football Team.

Todd Williams

A Criminal Justice major from Ridgeland, Todd Williams was a President's List scholar on the Ridgeland Campus with a 3.9 GPA.

While at Holmes he served as vice president of fellowship for the Alpha Lambda Sigma Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, sophomore representative of the Student Government Association, a Holmes Ambassador, member of the Honors Forum class and the Scholar's Bowl Team.

The recipient of a Dean's Scholarship, his career goal is to earn a Juris Doctorate degree and work as a special agent for the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

2004 Scholars Bowl Competition

Ridgeland competes in scholars bowl

Once again Holmes Community College was well represented at the Ken Wooten Scholars Bowl at the University of Mississippi during the weekend of Friday and Saturday, Feb. 13-14.

The Ridgeland Campus was one of 14 teams across Mississippi in the competition. The Ridgeland Campus of Holmes was the only campus to compete this year.

Each year, community colleges from across the state gather for the competition.

Begun as a recruiting tool for Ole Miss, it has grown into much. It shows how much work has been done by each team. This work consists of learning how the questions will be asked, what type of questions will be asked, which player is the strongest in certain areas. You must work as a team, and that's where practice comes in.

The Ridgeland team of Katie Ulven of Ridgeland, Martin Palomo of Brandon, Justin Broome of Ridgeland and Derek Tillman of Madison went 2-2 in this year's competition, according to sponsor John Switzer.

The Holmes team lost to Northwest in the first round of the competition. The teams then had a banquet before they returned to competition. Holmes then defeated Copiah-Lincoln Natchez Campus and Northeast before retiring for the night Friday.

The team then lost to Southwest on Saturday morning and headed home.

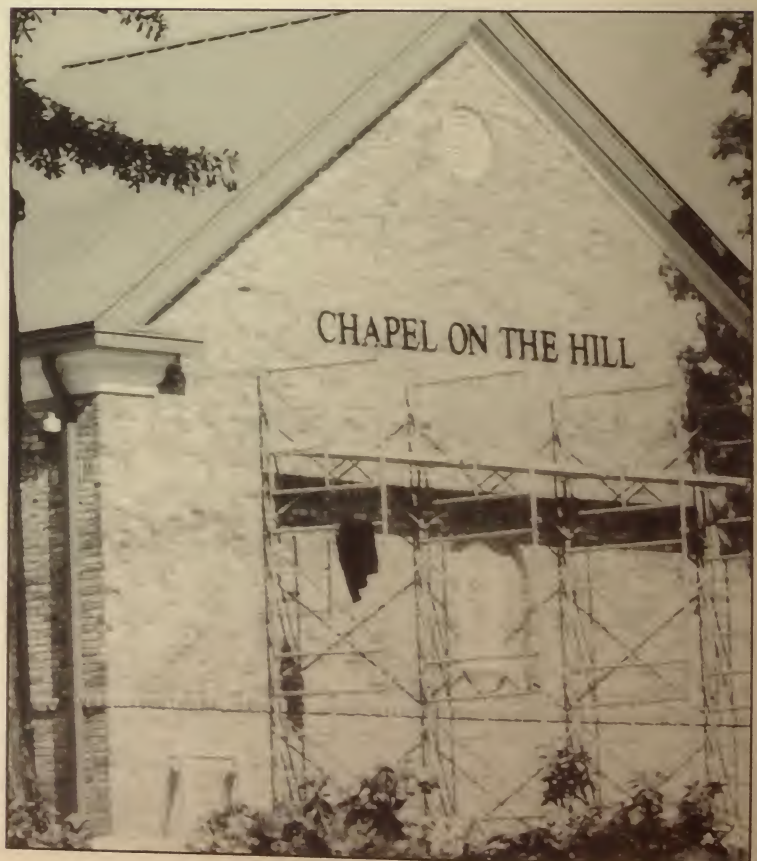

Since the inception, both the Goodman and Ridgeland teams have brought home the first place trophy.

The University offers scholarships to the first, second and third place teams.

War with Iraq: Should the

I think our President was a little trigger happy and anxious to finish what his father started. I think this was a frivolous war over oil and our President's pride. I think he was under the gun from the lack of progress he was making on the hunt for Osama bin Laden. So, to divert attention from the war against the Al Queda and bin Laden, President Bush rushed into a new war to remove "weapons of mass destruction" that thus far have not been found.

I think Bush also used war to try to jump start our economy, which was in a recession. Everybody knows that war can move the economy out of the recession. I do not agree with the fact that Bush used human life to raise his presidential approval rate. Life is too precious to be casualties of a frivolous war.

I understand that Saddam Hussein is a fascist dictator that slaughtered his own people. I don't think that it is our (the U.S.) job to fix all of the world's problems. We have our own problems that we need to address first before we try to fix everyone else's.

Our President forces our country to be big brother to the rest of the world, but at the cost of our own brothers' lives.

I don't feel it was necessary to go to war, but once it happened, I don't think that we should have been putting down the military because a lot of soldiers felt hurt that their country wasn't behind them and they believed that they were going to war for a good cause.

The only good thing that came out of that war was the capture of Saddam Hussein.

Yes, I do believe the United States made the correct decision with the war.

President Bush made the executive decision, and we as Americans need to back him. There are always casualties of war, but the lives given by our soldiers were in the pursuit of preserving democracy for our nation as well as many other nations.

Yes, I feel that the U.S. should have entered the war. If we had not attacked there is no telling what Saddam may have had as a weapon. Any time there is conflict, casualties will happen.

When they sign up for the Army, the persons should know what could happen and be willing to accept it.

Holmes student dies in Iraqi war

TUTWILER — A 24-year-old former Holmes Community College student died on Tuesday, Dec. 2 in Iraq, according to family members.

Raphael Davis, a specialist with the Mississippi Army National Guard in West Point, attended Holmes in the spring of 2001, fall of 2002 and spring of 2003, before being called up a few weeks into the Spring 2003 semester. His major was engineering.

Davis was a member of the 223rd Engineer Combat Battalion of the Mississippi Army National Guard. He is the second Mississippi guardsman to die in Iraq.

The 223rd Engineer Battalion, headquartered in West Point, has units in Bruce, Calhoun City, Charleston, Webb, Aberdeen and Clarksdale. Members were called to active duty in January.

The mission of the 223rd Engineer Battalion will be to perform general engineering tasks such as constructing and maintaining main supply routes, landing strips, buildings, structures and utilities.

Holmes Community College Reading Instructor Julia Williams described Davis as "an extremely conscientious young man."

"He knew his unit was being called up and was making every effort to notify his instructors that he was being called up."

Williams said she taught Davis speed reading, and he was only in her class for a short time last spring. She said it could have only been a few weeks when he came into her office notifying her of his deployment.

Davis' older brother Bernard Berryhill also serves in the National Guard, according to family members.

Davis was laid to rest in a small family cemetery outside Webb. He was presented the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart and the Mississippi Magnolia Cross.

Davis' survivors also include his 6-year-old son, Raphael Jr.; 5-year-old daughter, Raven; his father, Clifton Bailey of Webb; his stepmother, Elaine, of Webb; and 13 siblings.

U.S. Senator Trent Lott gave the commencement address and accepted honor for his mother

Making the Most of 2003 Graduation

Holmes Community College honored Iona Watson Lott of Pascagoula with its first Educator Hall of Fame award during the 75th commencement exercises on Friday, May 16. One of her well-known pupils, her son, U.S. Senator Trent Lott, accepted the honor in her absence.

The senator also served as commencement speaker. "My mother really enjoyed being a teacher," Lott said. "A lot of what I know comes from what I learned from Iona Watson Lott. The most important teacher I ever had is my mother.

"I'm honored that my mother is being recognized," he said. "At the end of the day, the last person standing is your mother. She will be 90 years old in August."

His mother was teaching at Central Elementary one day, and she pointed out the senator's future wife in her class. "I was insulted that she thought I would be interested in a sixth grader," he said. "Mothers influence a lot of what we do."

The senator congratulated Holmes Community College for its many years of success. "You offer so much more than you used to," he said. "You serve a huge part of the state."

Lott told graduates the two years at Holmes are two important years in their lives. "This has been the two best years you've ever lived," Lott said. "The friends you make here are the ones you are going to stick with." Three of his classmates work with him in Washington. "Always improve education and your state," he said.

The senator encouraged students to go out and make Mississippi a better place in which to live and work. He said he's fighting for the betterment of Mississippi and its citizens.

"A lot of people I deal with don't have the common sense to get the job done," he said. "I'm just a country boy from Carroll County. When I tell them that, I'm getting ready to pick their pockets.

"It's time for Mississippians to stand up and be counted," he said.

"Mississippi needs to have confidence and re-double their efforts." There must be a plan, and he outlined it as: education, improve infrastructure and increase revenue.

"If we don't educate every child with the basics, then we are probably going to fail," Lott stated. "The (Mississippi) community college system is one of the two to three best in the country, and you are expanding it. We need to continue to build on that."

Jenni Hudson of Kosciusko received the M.C. McDaniel Award as well as the Phi Theta Kappa Award for the Goodman Campus. David Sarton of Madison garnered the PTK Award from the Ridgeland Campus while Angela Ables of Grenada took the Grenada PTK Award.

Todd Rinewalt of Madison, Jeremy Burrell of West, Angela Ramage of Kosciusko, Ben Terry of Kosciusko and Brian Wood of Florence were named valedictorians. Flora resident Amy Quattlebaum was the salutatorian.

Congratulaions Hall of Famers You join an elite group who've already taken their place in Holmes Community College history.

Swayze Burkhardt

An English/history major, Swayze Burkhardt attended the Goodman Campus.

Both her freshman and sophomore years she was a member of the Kappa Alpha Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, Delta Psi Omega and Holme-Towne Players, appearing in "A Christmas Carol," "Nine Girls," and "the Odd Couple."

During her sophomore year she was a student tutor and a staff writer for the "Growl."

Kayla Cain

The recipient of a Kelly Gene Cook Scholarship, Kayla Cain was a nursing major on the Goodman Campus.

As a freshman she was a member of the Baptist Student Union.

During her sophomore year, Cain was selected to be a member of the Holmes Ambassadors Recruitment Team. She was also selected a beauty in the annual beauty review.

Lawana Fly

The recipient of a Dean's Scholarship both her freshman and sophomore years, Lawana Fly was a psychology major at the Grenada Center.

She was a member of the Alpha Mu Beta Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society both years, holding the office of vice president of leadership her sophomore year.

Chris Gressett

Named to the National Dean's List, Chris Gressett was a business administration major on the Ridgeland Campus.

As a freshman, he was inducted into the Alpha Sigma Lambda Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa.

During his sophomore year, Gressett served as vice president of service for Phi Theta Kappa, president of the MACS Club and treasurer of the Social Science Forum and a homecoming escort. He was employed with Phi Theta Kappa International Headquarters in Jackson, and served as a tutor at Old Towne Middle School and a volunteer in the Rock-A-Thon for the Blair E. Batson Hospital fund-raiser. He was also nominated for the Jack Kent Cooke Scholarship.

Mitchell Harville

Named to the National Deans List, Mitchell Harville was a secondary education/math major at the Grenada Center. As a freshman he was a member of the Wesley Foundation. Harville received second place for his literary essay in the local Creative Writing contest, receiving honorable mention at the state level.

Both his freshman and sophomore years he was a member of the Student Government Association and Phi Theta Kappa, serving both organizations as president his sophomore year. Harville was also a Grenada Center nominee for the Phi Theta Kappa All-State Academic Team.

Amanda Holliday

A psychology major, Amanda Holliday attended the Ridgeland Campus.

As a freshman and a sophomore she was a member of the Campus Christian Organization and Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society.

During her sophomore year she was named to the National Dean's List. She was also a member of the Honors Forum and served as newsletter editor for the Alpha Lambda Sigma Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa. Holliday was a tutor at Old Towne Middle School and the assistant manager of Follett Bookstore on the Ridgeland Campus.

Jodi Hudson

A Dean's List scholar, Jodi Hudson was an art major on the Goodman Campus.

Her freshman year she was a member of the Honors Program.

During her sophomore year she served as a cheerleader and a member of the Holmes Ambassadors Recruitment Team. She was also a member of the Kappa Alpha Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society.

Patricia Ingram

A business technology major at the Grenada Center, Patricia Ann Ingram was named to the President's List both her freshman and sophomore years.

Each year Ingram was also a member of Phi Beta Lambda, a club organized to promote business leadership and to create interest and understanding in the intelligent choice of business occupations.

Amanda Johnsey

Named to the National Dean's List both her freshman and sophomore years, Amanda Johnsey was a Goodman Campus radiology major.

As a freshman she was a Dazzler! with the Bulldog Marching Band and played trumpet with the Concert Band and Jazz Band. She was also a double tenor player with the Steel Drum Band. Johnsey was a member of the Baptist Student Union and received the English Composition Award.

During her freshman and sophomore years she was a President's List scholar, a Student Support Service student tutor and a member of the Honors Program. A member of Phi Theta Kappa both years, she served as president her sophomore year. She was also selected a class favorite each year.

As a sophomore she was the drum major for the marching band, a basketball Dazzler! and a Student Government Association dorm representative. She was selected student body maid, serving on the homecoming court. As a sophomore Johnsey was a Holmes Ambassador and nominated for the PTK All-State Academic Team. Receiving the Editor's Choice Award, Johnsey's poem, "Words with Voices," was published in the National Book of Poetry.

Stacey Jolley

An elementary/special education major on the Goodman Campus, Stacey Jolley was the recipient of a Dean's Scholarship and named to the President's list both her freshman and sophomore years. As a freshman she received the Coca-Cola Volunteer Scholarship.

During both her freshman and sophomore years she was a member of the Baptist Student Union, Phi Theta Kappa, the Honors Program and Future Educators of America. She received the Lexington Foundation Scholarship both years. Working with Student Support Services, she tutored children throughout her enrollment at Holmes.

Le'Roysha Jordan

Attending the Ridgeland Campus, Le'Roysha Jordan was an accounting major.

She was a member of Phi Beta Lambda, a club organized to promote business leadership and to create interest and understanding in the intelligent choice of business occupations, serving as president her sophomore year. Also as a sophomore, Jordan was a member of Phi Theta Kappa International Honor Society and was selected to be a member of the Holmes Ambassadors Recruitment Team.

Justin Ledbetter

A civil engineering major on the Goodman Campus, Justin Ledbetter was a President's List scholar and the recipient of a Dean's Scholarship.

His freshman year, Ledbetter received the Yazoo Community Scholarship.

During his freshman and sophomore years he was a member of the Bulldogs Baseball Team, the Kappa Alpha Chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, and the Baptist Student Union.

As a sophomore he was selected to be a member of the Holmes Ambassadors Recruitment Team.

Dedication

Chances are if you've taken a math class, visited the academic dean's office or McMorrough Library over the last 32 years, you've run into Luther or Kay Boggan.

The Boggans moved to Goodman in 1972 when Luther began teaching mathematics on the Goodman Campus. Prior to Holmes, Luther taught 7-11th grade mathematics in Hattiesburg City Schools while Kay taught at Lillie Burney Junior High School.

Kay came to work for the college in 1980 after teaching English and geography at Central Holmes Academy in Lexington from 1973-76. She then served as Goodman librarian from July 1979 until July 1980, when she began at Holmes as assistant librarian. When Eugenia Collins retired, Kay was named district librarian in 1997, the position she held until her retirement after the 2001-2002 school year.

Luther was named vice president for academic programs in 1998 following Richard Newton's retirement.

During the last 31 years, Luther has also served as music director at Main Street Baptist Church in downtown Goodman. He retired from that post in December, 2003.

Luther announced recently that he will retire after the 2003-2004 academic year.

The Boggans have two children, Shelley and Adam. Shelley graduated from Holmes in 1997 while Adam followed the next year.

It is for their service and commitment to the college district-wide, that this, the 75th edition of Horizons is dedicated to Luther and Kay Boggan.

1956 State Championship Basketball Team holds reunion/birthday celebration

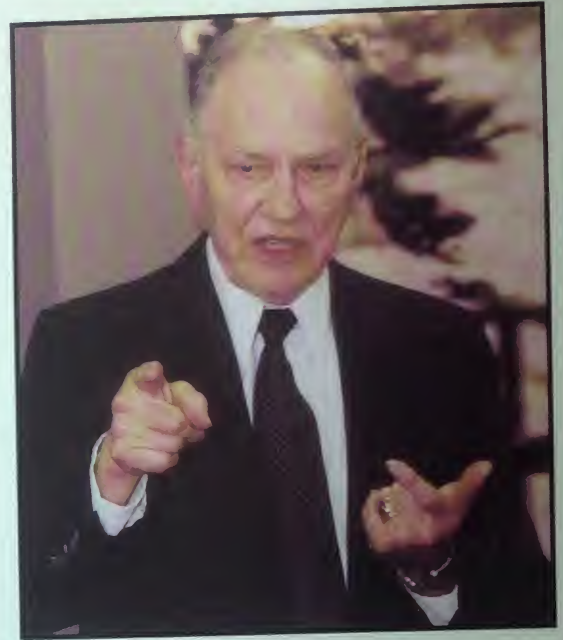

Members of the 1956 Holmes Junior College men's state basketball championship team came together on the Friday night to celebrate the state championship and the 80th birthday of their coach Gordon "Motor" Carr.

The team capped off a 20-win season with a Mississippi junior college championship by defeating Summit (Southwest), 76-69 in Ellisville. During the season, the Bulldogs broke the century mark with three 100-point games. The Bulldogs defeated Senatobia (Northwest) 101-93, Senatobia 105-65 and Decatur (East Central) 101-95.

Dick Johnson was named All-State while Sonny "Snuffy" Smith, Moon Mullen and Don Berry were named Honorable Mention All-State.

Coach Carr left Holmes in 1957 after 4 1/2 years as coach to go to work with the Corps of Engineers, where he tested hard-surfacing materials. Coach Don Phillips, who had been head coach at Holmes AHS, replaced him.

Carr was a Mississippi College graduate with a bachelor of science degree in science and chemistry. He received a master's degree from Ole Miss. He coached at Brookhaven for three years before coming to Holmes.

A Razzlin'-Dazzlin' Night

held by all at the 2003 Beauty Review

If, as a famous saying declares, "Beauty is in the eye of the beholder," then the Frank B. Branch's packed 2003 Beauty Review audience had its eyes filled to overflowing with the 35 participants who vied for top honors in this year's Parade of Beauties.

Hosting this year's competition, whose theme was "A Razzlin'-Dazzlin' Night," was Bill Watkins, Goodman Campus art instructor. It was his charge to keep the pageant's activities flowing as he provided the verbal signposts that moved the evening toward its crowning climax, presenting the 10 finalists, four beauties and finally at the end of the night's activities Holmes Community College's Most Beautiful.

The crowing of Holmes' fairest was preceded by preliminary judging which began the afternoon of the Review and each of the 35 girls had an individual interview with the panel of three judges. That was followed in the evening by the judges first evaluating the evening gown-clad contestants on beauty, poise and appearance. Once the top-10 beauties were named they were then reevaluated on beauty and poise.

Entertainment for the evening was provided by the Holmes Connection! The performers, sporting their retro '50s outfits, sang and danced as they did what they always do so artfully and skillfully, won the hearts and toe-tapping feet of their audience.

Making the first cut, 10 beauties emerged from the field. The Goodman Campus provided six finalists, Kayla Cain, Amanda Johnsey, Sabrina McGee, Maris Simmons, Anna Lammons and Laura Woods.

The Grenada finalists included Lindsey Martin, and Amanda Milner. Savana Ferguson and Shelley Roberts, Ridgeland students, rounded out the top 10.

From these 10, five, Cain, Milner, Johnsey, Simmons and Woods were picked as beauties, with the climax of the evening being the announcement of the Most Beautiful, Laura Woods.

The evening's activities were framed by a stage decorated in seasonal flowers. It was set against a white-and-black background, surrounding a small stage set upon the larger stage.

These features were in turn accented with white, lattice screens that floated above the stage while appearing to be suspended from numerous helium-filled silver balloons.

Judges for the evening's Parade of Beauties included: a mathematics instructor from Jackson State University, Marquise Loving; owner and operator of Mark IV Hairstyling in Kosciusko, Beauties in the 2003 Beauty Review were (from l-r) Amanda Milner, Grenada Center; Maris Simmons, Goodman Campus; Most Beautiful Laura Woods, Goodman Campus; Amanda Johnsey, Goodman Campus; and Kayla Cain, Goodman Campus.

Clubs

Clubs/Organizations

New faces everywhere in HCC clubs/organizations

By Nick White, Nieisha Bibbs and Staff

When looking through the different club/organization photographs on the upcoming pages, you might notice a lot of new faces listed as sponsors. These people are very important to their respective groups as well as classroom instruction so please make them welcome to their new positions.

For five and one-half years Ceressa Sims was a secretary in the vocational-technical building. This year, Sims was named director of student activities on the Goodman Campus.

"I love my job, it's a fun job to be able to plan parties and activities for students," said Sims. In Sims' previous position she was limited as a secretary to the office, now she can get involved with the students.

In interacting with the students, Sims says she loves that she is able to provide adequate activities for students so that they enjoy being at school and at the same time focus on their academics and education.

"My only true outlook for the future is to increase student participation as the school population grows," said Sims. In Sims' position, students feel free to come to her office for help and she is available to do various jobs on campus upon request. Sims is a well-rounded staff member, whereas if she's not planning student activities with SGA or in previous cases she worked on Homecoming events and she was the director of the Beauty Review, you may find her in her office assisting students, located in McDaniel Hall on the Goodman Campus.

Goodman Campus business and office instructor Keri Cole joins the Phi Beta Lambda club as a sponsor. She holds an associate's degree in accounting from Hinds Community College, a bachelor's degree in marketing from Mississippi State University and is currently pursuing an MBA at Mississippi State.

Cole comes to Holmes with her husband, Prentiss, who is director of intramurals and also an assistant football coach. The Coles have a daughter Lily Bell, 1.

In addition to her faculty position, Cole is also the Dazzler! Instructor. She has received numerous awards throughout her career in dance, cheering and gymnastics. She enjoys dancing, reading and playing with their daughter.

Newport native Jeffrey Cotten joins the Goodman Campus vo-tech department faculty as a HVAC instructor. Along with the faculty position, he is also a sponsor for VICA.

Cotten, a 1999 HVAC graduate of Holmes, returns to teach after having been a service technician.

He enjoys hunting and fishing in his spare time.

The Goodman Campus English department welcomes Dr. Andy Kelly as a new member of its faculty. Along with his faculty position, Dr. Kelly joins Julia Williams and Natalie McLellan as Phi Theta Kappa sponsors.

Before coming to Holmes, Kelly was a student at the University of Southern Mississippi, receiving his doctorate degree in 2003. He also holds a bachelor's degree from Mississippi College and a master's degree from Southern.

He and his wife Carla, who is also a teacher, reside in Jackson.

The Cosmetology Club also has a new leader. No stranger to the cosmetology department on the Goodman Campus, Patty Roberts returns this year to assume the role of cosmetology instructor.

Roberts is a former student, also returning later to receive an instructor's certificate. She also attended Mississippi State University.

Roberts and her husband Howard live in Durant where he is a car salesman. They have two children, Michael and Libby, and three grandchildren.

In addition to styling hair she enjoys gardening, decorating, hiking and

Former Holmes graduate and member of the Lady Bulldogs Basketball team, Laura Coleman Canard, returns to Holmes on the Ridgeland Campus as a history instructor. She also joins Betty Sue Adams and Steve Deaton as a Phi Theta Kappa sponsor.

Canard holds a bachelor's degree in history and a master's degree in history and political science, both from Mississippi College.

She and her husband, Richard Peyton, and their two-year-old son, Coleman, make their home in Brandon.

Robert Martin, the new funeral service technology instructor at the Ridgeland Campus, is a two-year college product, having graduated from Jones County Junior College in 1973. Martin joins Thomas Garrett as a sponsor of the Alpha Omega Club for the funeral service department.

He is also a graduate of Commonwealth College of Sciences in Houston, Texas, and a 1993 graduate of Mississippi College.

Born in Quitman and reared near Heidelberg, Martin has been a licensed mortician and funeral director, served as Coroner of Hinds County for 20 years, and has been the owner of Doric Burial Vault Company. His wife Judith is a retired teacher.

He has traveled in all 50 states and several foreign countries and has been active in Masonic work; a 33° Mason and Shriner. In his spare time he enjoys horseback riding, traveling and motorcycle riding.

Among the many new faces this year on the Goodman Campus is Tamara O'Bryant, who, after completing an internship under former director, Karen Ivy, has become the new director of the Holmes Baptist Student Union.

O'Bryant was born in West Palm Beach, Fla., but was reared in Lexington where she graduated from Central Holmes Academy. She then attended Holmes and Mississippi College. After graduating from MC, O'Bryant served as the youth minister of First Baptist in Lexington.

When Ivy left the BSU last year, the new position was offered to O'Bryant. "The Lord just opened the door, and I love working with college students, so I had to accept," she said.

Tamara has high expectations and continues to work diligently with the group's new leadership team to reach out to the Goodman Campus for Christ. The B.L.A.S.T. service is held at the Baptist Student Center across from the library on Tuesday nights at 7 p.m.

When long-time vocational-technical counselor Janice Richardson retired after the last school year, Leslie Spell, who was serving as student activities director, stepped in to fill the spot as well as being the sponsor of the Goodman Ambassadors.

Spell holds a bachelor's degree in psychology from Belhaven College and a master's degree from Jackson State University.

She and her husband, Shawn, who works at Hammett Motor Company, reside in Goodman. She also enjoys gardening and cooking.

Former Goodman English instructor, Steve Deaton, is now an English instructor on the Ridgeland Campus. Along with his teaching duties, he is also a sponsor of Phi Theta Kappa and the Creative Arts Club.

"The Odd Couple"

Fall production brings high comedy to play audience

By Nick White and Amy Smith

Holme Towne Players, with expert direction from speech and drama instructor Jim Schroeder, performed Neil Simon's "The Odd Couple" (female version). The plot was about two completely different individuals trying to live together under one roof in New York City. As Florence tries to regain some control of her life after a devastating divorce, Olive, her roommate and best friend, struggles to live with her obsessive neatness. All this makes for hilarious entertainment.

The set was beautiful. The stage crew did an awesome job decorating and designing the stage. The meticulous details that echoed throughout the production were some of the main reasons for the play's success and overall appeal.

The construction and paint crew were responsible for this gorgeous set. They are the following: Andy Brown, Maegan Burdine, Melanie Christopher, Thomas Haffey, Leslie Ingram, Jason Jones, Billy May, Cooper Miley, Marvell Nash, Teneia Sanders, Justin Schade, Clarence Thurman and Damion Upton.

Also, the cast did an excellent job at bringing to life Simon's characters. The two standouts in the production were Swayze Burkhardt and Maegan Burdine. Both brought zest and vigor to their roles. Swayze played her role so well, one wondered if her character's personality wasn't close to her own. Also, Maegan, Bootsey to her friends, had the comic timing of an actor twice her age. They, as well as the rest of the cast, crew and director, deserve to be commended on their awesome rendition of this classic play. Good Show!

The only two men, who played brothers Manolo and Jesus Costazucla, Cameron Bryant and Cooper Miley, were hilarious portraying the Spainard males.

Other notable performances include the following: Maydelin Vasquez who played Sylvie, a woman who stated that she was married to a penguin; Alicia Dees who played Mickey, the resident policewoman; Alicia Lewis who played the sophisticated Renee; and Leslie Ingram who played the ditzy Vera.

Olive, played by Swayze Burkhardt, attempts to relieve some of the stress from her friend, Florence, played by Maegan Burdine. Florence had just left her husband.

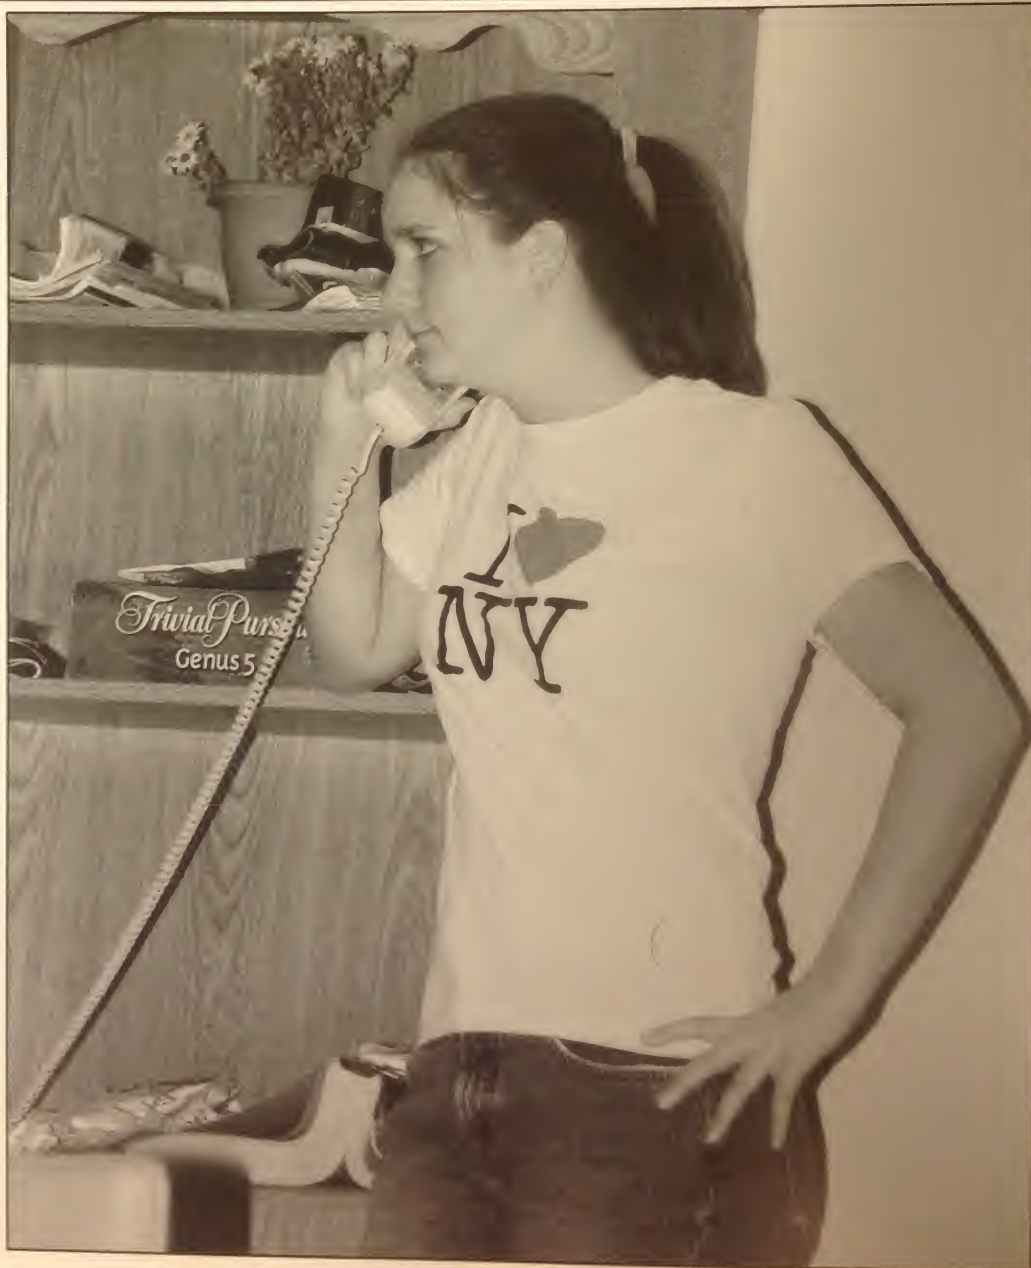

Burkhardt, Alicia Lewis, who played Renee, Alicia Dees, who played Mickey, Burdine, Leslie Ingram, who played Vera and Maydelin Vasquez, who played Sylvie, talk after Burdine (Florence) finally shows up after being missing for most of the day.

Burkhardt (Olive) accepts gifts from the Costazuela brothers, Jesus and Manolo, played by Cameron Bryant and Cooper Miley.

Burkhardt (Olive) talks on the phone during the production. Her friends always told her not to give her ex-husband money, but she always gave in and gave him what he wanted.

The on-stage chemistry of all the actors was prevalent throughout the play. Each actor played his/her part with talent and integrity.

Behind the scenes were stage manager Shannon Walters and Kip Isonhood.

After the play, the audience was offered a chance to purchase concessions. All proceeds went to help fund the Honors Forum's spring trek to New York.

Student Activities

New director Sims helps add to list of activities available for students

By Nieisha Bibbs

With the constant planning of the Student Activities Committee and SGA, the Goodman Campus can continue to offer the students positive involvement in many fun activities.

The Student Government Association and the Department of Student Activities provided students with fun things to do that were truly responsible for adding life to the campus. A newly added element that is responsible for much of this would be new Student Activities director Ceressa Sims. Sims is not new to the Holmes family, she may only be new to this wondrous position.

Previously, Sims held the position as secretary at the Goodman Vo-Tech building. "Due to the location there are really no activities available for the students unless they drive, so I really take pride and much interest in my new job," said Sims.

It is good to be able to provide activities; and doing that, Sims has more hands-on action with planning and working with students. From the first of this school year, the student activities committee and SGA have poured numerous ideas together to help create many activities such as: (1st week of school) Bulldog Bash, Homecoming week's activities, Homecoming day activities that included the presentation of Homecoming courts and queen, election of SGA officers, Fall Festival, guess the number of pumpkins for Halloween, Top Turkey contest for Thanksgiving, and the Operation Calling Card, where 200-minute AT&T calling cards were collected and sent to soldiers overseas so that they may call their families during Christmas.

Through hard work and effective meetings other activities had been planned to be put into motion, they are the Mexican Fiesta, a formal dance, the Golden Egg Hunt for Easter, a shamrock hunt, and an annual Spring Fling that will include a live band, various activities, a dance, and crawfish.

There are other activities that happen on an almost weekly basis like Bingo games, spade games, and twice a month there is movie night where featured movies have been Freddy vs. Jason and 28 Days Later. Students are made aware of these activities because there is an array of different colored calendars posted on many walls and bulletin boards throughout the campus.

Bulldog finish season at 3-6

The Holmes Community Bulldog football team went on a three-game winning streak toward the end of the season to finish the year at 3-6.

The Bulldogs opened the campaign with a 21-14 loss to East Central at home. The team then traveled to Southwest and lost, 13-2.

The team then traveled to Mississippi Delta and lost their first division game of the season 21-13. Coahoma then came to Goodman and took a heartbreaking division game, 25-23.

The Bulldogs then hosted Northwest on Homecoming 2003 and lost, 30-7.

The Bulldogs then went on a run and knocked off East Mississippi at Scooba, Copiah-Lincoln at Wesson and Northeast at home.

Holmes defeated East Mississippi, 32-27; Co-Lin, 28-6; and Northeast, 27-24.

The Bulldogs ended the season at Fulton and lost to Itawamba, 17-7.

Bulldog sophomore running back Sedric Clay led the Bulldogs in rushing with 523 yards on 133 carries and five touchdowns.

Freshman quarterback Jontarious Brown led in passing yards with 475 yards and three touchdowns.

Freshman receiver Eric Marshall led the Bulldogs in receiving with 349 yards on 12 catches and four touchdowns.

Freshman linebacker Michael Evans led the Bulldogs in tackles with 80. Sophomore defensive end Rubio Phillips led the Bulldogs in sacks with six.

Baughn new cheer coach

By Emily Melton

The Holmes Community College 2003-04 cheerleading squad has new leadership! Cindy Baughn, wife of football coach, Trac Baughn, is the new sponsor. The squad this year consists of only two returning cheerleaders, sophomores Amy Moore and Galen Martin. They also serve as the team captains.

The other members of the squad are Laura Woods, Chris Wilkerson, Maris Simmons, Winnie Robinson, Brandi Burton, Jodi Hudson, David Hammack, Sam Granberry, Pierre Allison and Bradley Presley.

The Squad started out the season with a private camp that was held on the Goodman Campus led by University of Southern Mississippi head coach, Brian Hunt. Hunt taught the squad how to do many different stunts. The squad learned how to do the Toe Pitch 2:2:1 pyramid, sweetish falls pyramid, basket tosses, and many other partner stunts. Some of these stunts include: liberties, cupies, heel stretches, and walk-in stunts.

The cheerleaders were all over the campus this year doing different themed pep rallies. The pep rallies included an Hawaiian, Toga, 60s and others. The cheerleaders are responsible for keeping the student body involved in the football and basketball games. This can be very challenging at some times, they manage to do so very well.

Future looking bright for '04-'05

The 2003-04 soccer season is over, but the future looks bright with the Bulldogs returning a large majority of their players including two of the top scorers in the division.

"I don't think I could be prouder of a 6-8-2 season," Head Coach Matt Convertino said of the team. "Even though this year's team consisted of almost entirely freshman, the exception being sophomore goalkeeper Chris Duncan, the players were willing to buy into the playing philosophy that I was selling from day one."

The team finished the year with more wins than the last four seasons combined. The Bulldogs started the season with 22 players but that number dwindled down prior to the first game of the season.

Despite the adversity, they put together the seven-year program's longest winning streak as well as achieving Holmes' first ever victory against Itawamba.

"I don't think the freshman were really prepared for the speed and physical play of the college game but once we adjusted, found the right formation for ourselves, we played some very entertaining soccer," Convertino said. "We endured our fair share of obstacles this season, but in the end found a core group of about 12 guys that really enjoyed playing with one another, stuck it out through the tough times and showed tremendous improvement both as a collective unit and individuals."

Along with Duncan, the Bulldogs will graduate Greg Holloway.

The 2004 campaign will bring back leaders from the team and from the North Division. Freshmen Cody Dear and Daniel Wheat were neck and neck in the points race. Dear finished with 21 points (8 goals, 5 assists) while Wheat had 17 (7 goals, 3 assists). Dear was third among division freshmen and sixth in the division while Wheat was sixth among division freshmen and ninth in the division overall. Other returning players include the Bulldogs number three goal scorer Matt Dennison (5 goals, 0 assists, 10 points) and team playmaker Casey Sanford (2 goals, 5 assists, 9 points).

Convertino has high hopes for his 2004 recruiting class. "We will look to identify athletically gifted, technically sound players that will complement our team," said Convertino.

This year's team will have to make next year's team. "There are no free rides in this program," Convertino said. "My players will tell you that I don't sugar coat anything, and they understand you've got to be ready to step out to training ready to prove yourself on a daily basis."

Lady Bulldogs make late run; fail to make postseason

The Holmes Community College Lady Bulldog basketball team won some key games down the stretch during the 2003-2004 basketball season but still came up short for the postseason.

Going into the final regular season game versus Mississippi Delta on Feb. 19, the Lady Bulldogs knew they had to win to make it to the MACJC State Tournament in Booneville the next week.

The Lady Bulldogs jumped out early against Mississippi Delta and never looked back pulling out a 62-58 win.

Ida Edwards led the Lady Bulldogs in scoring with 18 points while LaTrice Rone had 12 and Megan Colona had 10.

All that had to happen then was for Itawamba to lose to Northeast, which had already happened earlier in the season. The Lady Indians got past Northeast, which knocked the Lady Bulldogs out of the state tournament play.

The Lady Bulldogs then played the waiting game to see whether or not they made the Region XXIII Tournament at Clinton the next week.

All that had to happen was for

Jones to fall to Northeast in the state tournament.

Jones, however, had plans of their own and knocked off Northeast during the MACJC state tournament. The Lady Bobcat win ended the Lady Bulldog season at 14-11 and 6-6 in the North Division.

In division play, the Lady Bulldogs split with Mississippi Delta (54-65 in Moorhead and 62-58 in Goodman), Itawamba (66-75 in Goodman and 71-67 in Fulton). They took two games from East Mississippi (63-30 in Goodman and 77-67 in Scooba) and two games from Coahoma (86-71 in Goodman and 56-45 in Clarksdale).

The Lady Bulldogs fell twice to Northwest (68-83 in Senatobia and 59-76 in Goodman) and twice to Northeast (49-70 in Booneville and 75-90 in Goodman).

LSU-Eunice came to Goodman for the season opener and defeated the Lady Bulldogs, 69-88.

Holmes did split with state and region champions East Central. The Lady Bulldogs defeated East central 64-53 in Goodman and fell 70-78 in Decatur.

The Lady Bulldogs took two games from Hinds (74-65 in Goodman and 78-65 in Utica). They split with Co-Lin (60-55 in Wesson and 53-71 in the Southwest Tournament at Summit). They also split with Southwest (88-53 in Goodman and 70-81 in the Southwest Tournament at Summit).

They took two games from Jones (78-69 in Ellisville and 60-51 in Goodman).

The Lady Bulldogs also hit the road just before Christmas in the Snead State Tournament in Boaz, Ala.

The Lady Bulldogs fell to Gadsden State 73-79 in overtime on Dec. 5 and then defeated Wallace-Hanceville on Dec. 6, 88-71.

Bulldogs lose in Region Tourney

CLINTON --- The Southern University at Shreveport Jaguars ended any chance of the Bulldogs making the national tournament with a 63-58 win in the first round of the Region XXIII Tournament at Mississippi College.

The Bulldogs ended the 2003-04 campaign with a 17-9 record and finished 10-2 in the North Division.

Southern-Shreveport jumped out to a quick three-point lead with 17:25 remaining in the first half as Turmaine Rice hit a three-pointer from the right corner. The Bulldogs got the lead back shortly thereafter after two two-point buckets from Terrance Akins and Kendall Granderson. A Rice three-pointer put Southern-Shreveport back up by two and that was the last lead the Jaguars had until 4:45 left in the first half when they led 22-21.

Granderson hit four-of-four free throws in the last 3:35 and Hilton Tompkins added a three-pointer to put the Bulldogs up 30-24 at halftime.

Holmes continued scoring to come out after halftime and increased the lead to 12 with a two-point bucket by Tompkins with 18:00 left in the game.

Southern-Shreveport clawed their way back into the game and got a 39-38 lead after Craig Davis hit two free throws with 12:16 remaining. A two-point bucket by Amaretto "Red" Plunkett and Granderson increased the Bulldog lead to 44-39 with 10:40 left in the game. Corey Holder gave Southern-Shreveport a one-possession lead at 47-46 with 7:40 remaining. A two-point bucket by Granderson put Holmes back up. The Bulldogs increased the lead to 51-48 with under five minutes to play after Granderson hit one-of-two free throws. Rice then hit a three-pointer to tie the game at 51 with 3:00 left.

The Bulldogs last saw a lead at 53-51 when Korey Moore hit two-of-two free throws with two minutes remaining. Southern-Shreveport's Corey Deans hit two free to tie the game at 53. The Jaguars added 10 points from there to seal the game.

Granderson led the Bulldogs with 24 points while Tompkins added 11 and Akins had nine.

Holmes got to postseason by finishing 10-2 in the North Division and 17-7 during the regular season.

After taking the North Division outright during the 2002-2003 campaign, the Bulldogs came close to duplicating that feat this season but split with Northwest and Itawamba.

The Rangers, who defeated Southern-Shreveport 89-82, defeated the Bulldogs in the Jan. 15 game at Senatobia, 92-76. The Bulldogs then returned the favor in Goodman, 90-89, on Feb. 9.

The Bulldogs blew out the Indians, 91-70, in Goodman on Jan. 20, but the Indians got the best of the Bulldogs in Fulton, 71-67 on Feb. 12.

Holmes swept Delta (89-77, 83-76), Coahoma (101-75, 74-65), East Mississippi (90-63, 82-60) and Northeast (68-52, 68-62).

Hinds swept the Bulldogs, 75-70 in Goodman and 65-63 in Goodman. Jones also swept the Bulldogs, 77-67 and 74-69. The Bulldogs fell to Co-Lin, 60-57.

During the 2003-2004 campaign the Bulldogs traveled to Boaz, Ala. to the Snead State Tournament, where they picked up two wins. They defeated Gadsden State, Ala., 72-51 on Dec. 5 and Snead State, 78-74, on Dec. 6.

Bulldogs shoot for postseason

When looking at the 2003-2004 baseball roster at Holmes Community College, you should notice one thing --- there are a lot of P's for pitcher in the position column.

Holmes Bulldog Head Baseball Coach Kenny Dupont said his goal was finding those multidimensional players that could pitch and also play other positions or those position players who could also pitch.

"We've got more players this year that can pitch than ever before," Dupont said. "We did not want to get to the playoffs and be left short handed with our pitching staff as we have the last two years."

The Bulldogs, who went 30-15 last season, capped the 2003 season off in the state tournament at Meridian and in the Region XXIII Tournament at Itawamba finishing third in both of them.

The 30 wins last season marked the third straight season to win 30 or more games. It was also the second year in a row to make both tournaments.

Eight players from last year's squad -- Mitch Sanders, Josh Reagan, Bo Weems, Grover Allen, Justin Gardner, Corey Hughes, Sherwood Colette and Josh McNeer -- signed with universities. Allen signed with Louisiana Tech University while the others signed with the University of Arkansas-Monticello.

"We are doing with in-state players," Dupont said. "That makes it special. We are the only Juco in the state that does not have out-of-state players. We have been ranked two of the last four years. We finished third in state tournament out of six and third in the region tournament out of six."

Four of the 2003-2004 returnees -- Matt Meeks, Root Russell, Brian Johnson and Scott Norwood -- made the All-State and All-Region teams for their 2003 performances.

Meeks, a sophomore from Benton Academy, made the state and region third teams. The shortstop finished the season with a .303 batting average and went 1-2 from the mound with a 3.77 ERA.

Dupont said Meeks "could be the best shortstop in the state. He also could be one of the top pitchers on our staff."

Russell, a sophomore from Madison-Ridgeland Academy, made both first teams. He finished the season with a .315 batting average which included 15 home runs and 44 RBI. Russell spent most of the 2003 season as the designated hitter but will see action at first base this year.

Dupont described Russell as a "very strong, powerful hitter. He could be the best power hitter in the state and in Region XXIII."

Norwood, who led the team in hitting with a .390 average, made first team All-Region and second team All-State. He led the team in hits with 48 including five doubles and two triples.

"He could be the best third baseman in the state and in Region XXIII," Dupont said. "He is very fast and a very hard-nosed, aggressive player."

Brian Johnson, a sophomore from Madison, batted .348 for the Bulldogs last season with 30 hits including one double, two triples and two homeruns. He played leftfield most of last season.

"We are going to look for Josh and David to help show the way to the newcomers on how we do things and the way we do things and what we expect from them," said Dupont.

Cureington finished the 2003 season with 1-0 record with 22 2/3 innings pitched striking out seven with a 3.18 ERA. Cox finished with a record of 0-1 with 19 1/3 innings pitched striking out seven with a 4.67 ERA. "They both pitched in relief," Dupont said. "That's pretty good (innings) for freshmen. That's not bad."

According to Dupont, Cureington throws 82-83 mph with

Holmes places six in Juco All-Star Game

Six Holmes Community College baseball players represented Holmes in the Juco Showcase last weekend in Meridian.

Infielders Matt Meeks, Scott Norwood and Root Russell along with outfielders Luke Barthel and Chris Johnson and pitcher David Cureington played two games on Sunday.

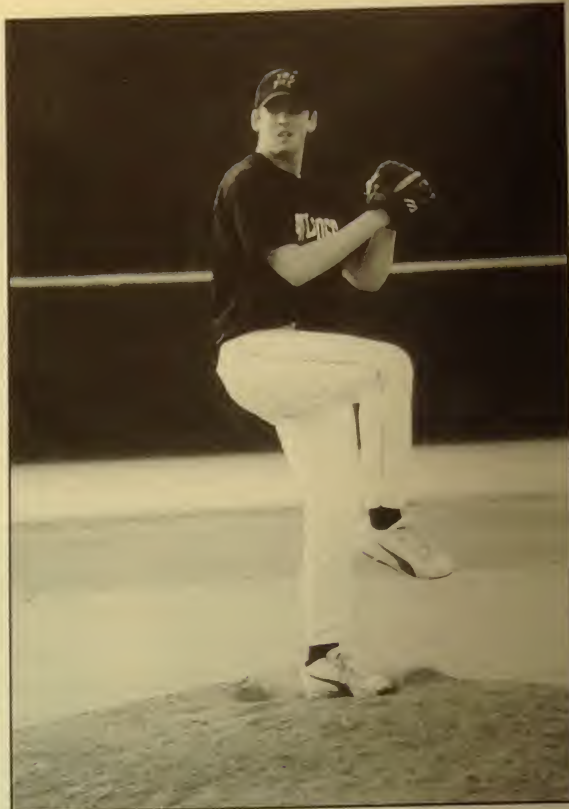

Of the six, Russell made First Team All-State and First Team All-

Region last season. Norwood made Second Team All-State and First Team All-Region. Meeks made Third Team All-State and Third Team All-Region.

Russell led the Bulldogs in homeruns with 15 and batted .315 while Norwood hit .390, Meeks .303, Barthel .294, and Johnson .283. Cureington had a 3.18 ERA while Meeks was 3.77.

a good breaking ball and could be on the Bulldogs starters. Cox throws around the same mph as Cureington.

The Bulldogs also return three outfielders who saw extensive action last season. Luke Barthel from Northwest Rankin hit .294 for the Bulldogs while playing center field. Michael Cooper from Ackerman hit .176 splitting time with Chris Johnson, who hails from Callaway, in right field. Johnson batted .283 for the Bulldogs and stole 34 bases.

Dupont described his outfielders as "very fast." He said of Barthel, "Could be one of the best outfielders in the state this year. He's a hard-nosed aggressive player."

"Looking for him to compete for starting job in right field," he said of Cooper. He added about Johnson, "He could be one of the best outfielders in the state. He stole over 30 bases for us."

Justin Ledbetter from Benton Academy and Brett Narmour both underwent surgeries last season but have since recovered. Ledbetter, a right-handed pitcher, had shoulder surgery and Narmour, a right-handed pitcher/infielder/designated hitter had "Tommy John" surgery on his pitching arm.

Dupont said he wants Ledbetter competing for a starting job on the hill for the Bulldogs. "I'm looking for good things from him coming off the surgery," Dupont said. Ledbetter throws 83-84 mph with good movement.

"I'm looking for big things from him," Dupont said of Narmour. "He could be one of the best hitters in the state."

Vance Avalon, a transfer from Hinds Community College, will play catcher for the Bulldogs. Dupont said he could be "the best catcher in state of Mississippi and Region XXIII. He hustles and is a hard-nosed aggressive player."

The Bulldogs will feature three former Pearl High School Pirates -- Ryan Sullivan, Matt Buchanan and Jason Stewart. Sullivan is a right-handed pitcher and second baseman while Buchanan is a right-handed pitcher and third baseman. Jason Stewart is a catcher.

Brandon Ward joins the squad from Grenada High School. The shortstop/second baseman should battle for a job as a starter, Dupont said.

Dupont has high hopes for Daniel Stevens and Brent Telano, both left-handed pitchers from Ackerman High School.

Fancher takes reins of softball program

First-year Softball Head Coach Terry Fancher hopes a large number of returnees and an impressive group of signees will make his transition easier.

Fancher, who came to Holmes in 1997 as housing director and assistant softball coach, took over for Dan Edwards, who retired from coaching after last season.

After playing baseball for Mississippi State and Mississippi College, Fancher said he thought about teaching and coaching high school baseball but not college softball.

"It wasn't in my plan for sure," Fancher said. "I didn't have any aspirations. It's kind of funny how I came back around full circle to doing something with education."

Fancher said last year's team hit the ball well in most games, but defense cost the Lady Bulldogs some games as well.

"We pride ourselves in having good offensive teams," Fancher said. "We've got to improve defensively if we're going to compete. We made too many errors -- throwing and fielding."

"We gave up too many runs because we didn't do the little things right," he added. "I'm really big at working on fundamentals and becoming fundamentally sound."

Fancher does see being the only coach as a hurdle he'll just have to cross.

"When you get to the spring you don't have all that extra time to work on individual things," Fancher said. "It's going to be hard for me to give them that individual attention that I have been able to give in past seasons. It will be a challenge for me to make sure we can get all the fundamentals in. I want the girls to know what to do in every situation that might happen. I want to cover as much as we can."

The 2003-2004 squad features two returnees from Kosciusko High School -- Kristen Ables and Emily Jones.

Fancher said he plans to move Ables to the infield or maybe even the outfield. "She's a good athlete, quick," Fancher said. "Her hitting was not up to par this year. I know she can provide some offense, and she's good to have in the leadoff spot.

"Defensively, she's a very good catcher," he added. "She's very smart in knowing what to do in different situations. I expect her to make some strides in her hitting. I think she can help in other positions when she's not behind the plate."

Emily Jones played in the outfield last season for the Lady Bulldogs. "She was a role player last year," he said. "The experience she gained should be an asset."

Winona Christian's Stacey Brown played in the outfield for the Lady Bulldogs before going down with an injury late in the season. "She could play some spot roles this season," he said. "I expect her to be somebody, if she's not in the game, to be able to come off the bench and provide some help for us."

Sara Gowan, who played high school ball at Central Holmes Christian School, played second base last season. She moved to the leadoff spot when Ables went down with an injury.

"She did really well," Fancher said. "She finished up strong. She gave us a boost in the leadoff spot. She is a good infielder and outfielder. She could be either or. I expect her to be a valuable asset to the team as well."

Alicia Lewis from Forest Hill saw action in the outfield as well as DH. "She's very fast, and she's got a powerful bat," Fancher said. "She came through for us a lot this year in key situations."

Downsville, La., native Ashley Talley made some noise last year in state and region play. She was named First Team All-Region. Talley spent most of the time last season at shortstop hitting over .400.

"She has a great throwing arm and a great bat," Fancher said. "She was our offensive player of the year."

"She knows how to use her wrists and her timing to the ball is good," he added. "She knows how to make contact with the ball. It's not how hard she swings but how quick she is to the ball. She has a good eye and didn't strike out much. That is the key to a good hitter. She can work ahead in the count. She gets a hitter's count. That's what makes her so good."

Calhoun, La., native Jordan Walters saw action for the Lady Bulldogs at third and first base. "I'm not sure where we'll be playing her," Fancher said. "Jordan's got a good bat, too. She struggled at midseason and then picked it back up. I expect her to improve a lot, too." She could also be used as a pitcher.

Fancher said he is looking to the sophomores for help in his first year. "I expect those sophomores to provide leadership we're going to have to have," Fancher said. "With that large a group, I think we'll have that. I want to make every effort to improve our team's performance and record from last year."

As far as the signees, Martha Cook comes to Holmes from Strider Academy in Charleston. Fancher said she will see time in the outfield. Lauren Greenlee and April Golding hail from Winona Christian. Both of them could see time in the outfield or infield. Benton Academy graduate Hope McMullin will fill a spot in the starting rotation for the Lady Bulldogs.

Golf program hopes to continue 2003 success

Consistency from start to finish resulted in a Holmes Community College golfer qualifying for the national tournament last spring — a first for Coach Todd Kimble and a first since two players went in 1997.

Bulldog sophomore Britt Johnson of Benton joined the 1997 duo of Steve Chambliss and Kent McLeod, who played for former coach Gary Sheppard.

"I never did think we got to playing our best until right at the end, and I guess that's what you're supposed to do," said Kimble of the 2003 squad.

Kimble said he was proud of Johnson's final tournament as a Bulldog.

"He had some rounds where he played good but not up to this potential," Kimble said. "He would shoot one under par on the front nine and then on the back he might be seven or eight over. He would end up with a decent score but not as good as he was capable of playing.

"During the state and region tournament, he played the front nine and was one over," Kimble said. Johnson finished the first day of the tournament leading at one over and shooting even par on the back nine.

The second day, he shot three over on the front nine and two over on the back nine ending up tied for fifth place overall.

Kimble said conditions were horrible, which hampered Johnson's play. "He missed a couple of putts that he had made the day before that would have won the tournament," Kimble said. "He ended up finished tied for fifth, which I thought pretty good for our golf team. I thought that was excellent."

Bulldog sophomore Chad Penn returns after gaining some valuable experience on Kimble's 2003 squad. Penn, a Canton Academy product, is a six-handicapper.

"Chad only had probably one, maybe two, where he didn't play good," Kimble said. "The other tournaments he played consistently."

Kimble said Penn probably averaged about eight over par for each of the tournaments. "He'll be pretty good next year," Kimble said. "He will help us out a good bit."

Joining Penn on this year's squad is Matt Garren of Madison Central, Joseph Stewart of Central Holmes Christian School and Chris Wofford of Madison-Ridgeland Academy.

Garren will take off the football pads this spring after playing football for the Bulldogs in the fall. He kicked field goals and punted for the Bulldogs this year.

Another addition to the Bulldog golf program this spring is assistant coach William Earl Morgan of Brandon, who has served as golf pro at five different courses across the state of Mississippi.

Morgan, 68, is a 1958 graduate of Mississippi State University. He received his master's degree in education from Ole Miss in 1967. He then earned his Class A certificate to be a PGA golf professional in 1983.

The Greenville native's stints and their respective courses: Greenville Municipal, 12 years; Clear Creek at Vicksburg, five years; St. Andrews in Ocean Springs, one year; Brookhaven Country Club, three years; and Rolling Hill Country Club in Crystal Springs, two years.

He has also worked with the Delta State University golf team as well as served as tournament director of the Mississippi Golf Association. He has been named Pro of the Year by the PGA on two different occasions and has been named to the Gulf States Hall of Fame.

Before teaching others how to play golf, Morgan was in education for 20 years. He worked in the Biloxi School System for one year before going to work for Greenville Public Schools, where he served as coach, transportation director, assistant superintendent and athletic director at times during his time there.

Plans for the 2004-05 school year are to move the Holmes Community College golf program to the Ridgeland Campus with the soccer program and for Morgan to be head coach. Kimble will then help Morgan coach after basketball season is over, according to school officials.

Chad Penn drives off the tee box in the Holmes tournament held at Canton Country Club last spring. Kimble hopes Penn will lead the Holmes team this spring.

Women's tennis experienced in 2004

The Holmes Community College women's team returns three players from last season -- Brandie Browning, Sabrina McGee and Megan Cochran.

Browning and McGee worked out hard last summer to improve in their game. Bulldog tennis coach Andy Wood said. He said the two have been battled each other in the summer heat.

"Brandie was our No. 1 player last year," Wood said. "She played high school tennis and was very competitive. She played really hard and has a great attitude."

McGee, who went to Weir, never played tennis before last year, and Wood said he was really pleased with the success she had.

"She never played tennis before she came to Holmes because Weir didn't have a tennis team," Wood said. "She improved drastically during the season."

"She's improved this summer," he added. "She's taking tennis lessons and has a personal trainer. She's one dedicated athlete. She's ready to go. She's very mobile. She's able to get to the ball. It definitely makes a difference. It's important to her."

Cochran from Benton Academy was sidelined late last season with an inflammation of her Achilles tendon after playing singles most of the year. Last year was her first year to play competitively, also. "She's a very, very hard worker."

Joining the women's team will be Cortney Robertson of Kosciusko, Maris Simmons of Yazoo City and Latoya Jones of Holly Bluff.

The 2003 men's tennis team saw success with three making it to the final four last year in the state and region tournament on the coast. Wood said he would like to see that repeated or improved this year.

Brian Cronin and Cliff Cosnahan, both sophomores on the squad last season, got to the final four in No. 2 doubles before falling to Itawamba in the semi-finals.

Kacy Dodder made it to the semi-finals in No. 3 singles before falling to Gulf Coast.

The Bulldog male team finished seventh out of 11. "We had tremendous people," Wood said. "We had good, Christian people. This made a big difference. We had great sophomore leadership and talent. They were the best tennis players I've had since I've been here."

"We enjoyed it," he said of the tournament. "We had so much fun. Unless we replace some of the players we lost, it's going to be hard to duplicate that success again."

Adam Taylor is the only male returner for the Bulldogs in 2004. "Adam is going to provide a lot of spiritual leadership," Wood said. "Adam is just learning the game. He's never played before."

Wood said Taylor didn't get to play as much as he would like because he played No. 3 doubles. "Most teams didn't have No. 3 doubles team," said Wood.

Joining Taylor on the men's side will be Jonathan Tuck of Ackerman, Michael Hatcher of Kosciusko and Brian Thomas of Yazoo City.

Intramural programs on the rise

Second-year intramural director Prentiss Cole has put together another successful year.

The program once again offered a lot of activities for the resident and commuter students at Holmes Community College.

Basketball has drawn the most interest through early February of this year, Cole said.

The Intramural Program at Holmes Community College is broken down into three different categories: team competition leagues, team sports and individual sports.

In the team competition league, the program offers 7-on-7 football, 3-on-3 basketball, softball and soccer.

In the team sports category, the program offers ultimate frisbee, pick-up basketball, 6-on-6 volleyball, tennis, whiffle ball and kickball.

In the individual sports category, the program offers horseshoes, table tennis, three-point shoot-out and home-run derby.

In addition to the sports above, Cole is planning to add the following events to their respective categories: hacky-sack, team sports; and frisbee golf, chipper's challenge and quarterback challenge, individual sports.

Hacky-sack is played with a small bean bag that is kicked around by respective team members.

In frisbee golf the object is to throw a frisbee into a wire net. You must do this within a set number of shots just like regular golf.

In chipper's challenge, there will be targets spread around and you are to chip a golf ball into the target.

As far as the quarterback challenge, targets will set up on the intramural field and participants must throw a football into the target from different locations on the field.

Another objective Cole hopes to accomplish in 2004-05 is to get faculty and staff members involved in the activities.

"Faculty is encouraged to participate in intramural activities and make "out-of-classroom" connections with the students," said Cole.

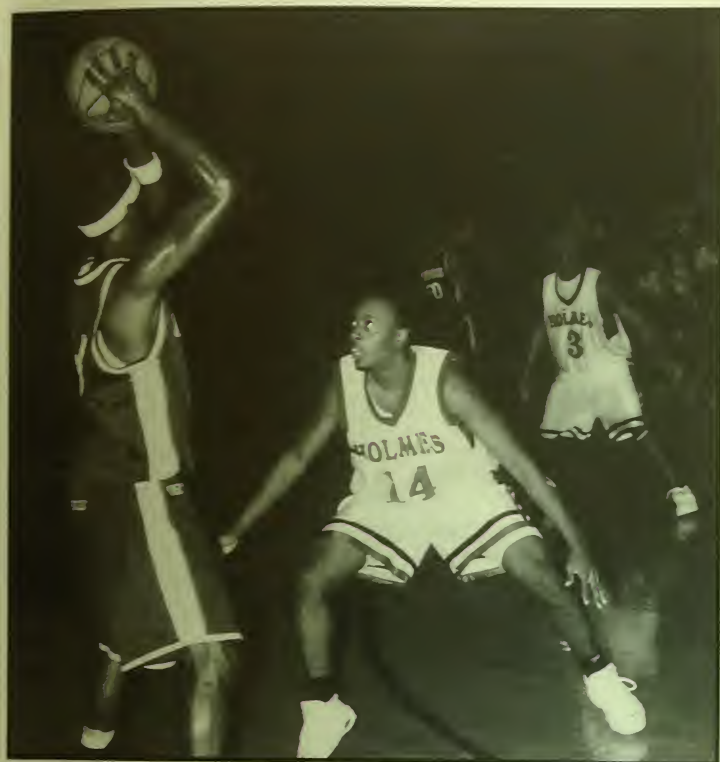

Above, Toby Smith of Mantee looks to cut back in an intramural football game in the fall. Below, Cole and Rubio Phillips of Kosciusko watch a pick-up basketball game.

What advice would you give to freshmen?

"College is not as hard as you are told. I would just like to tell them that studying will do a lot of good. Picking the right major is the hardest thing about college. It's better to know what you want to do when you get here."

Sumners Trust offered to Holmes students

Holmes students who live in Attala, Montgomery, Carroll, Webster and Choctaw counties are now eligible to receive the Sumners scholarship. Above pictured is John Sumner, Sumners Trust administrator.

Ground broken for industrial training building

Holmes President Dr. Starkey A. Morgan, Sr. talks during the groundbreaking ceremony of the industrial training center at the Ridgeland Campus of Holmes. Pictured behind him are Holmes board of trustees members and several Madison County supervisors. The Madison County Board of Supervisors played an important part in getting the building process underway. Bids were to be let before the 2003-2004 school year ended.

Hanging out in Kyoto's Japanese Steak House

Goodman Campus students Aly Frazure, Cortney Robertson, Heather Hutchison and Jennifer Canty visit during first semester.

Holmes beauties named

Laura Woods, center, was crowned Holmes' Most Beautiful during first semester. Other beauties included Amanda Milner, Maris Simmons, Kayla Cain and Amanda Johnsey.

Honors Forum, Goodman and Ridgeland Campuses

New president's home construction underway

Work continued second semester on a new president's home on the western part of the Goodman Campus of Holmes.

Walking trail completed around the Holmes Lake

Workers lay asphalt during the final stages of the walking trail around the Holmes Lake on the Goodman Campus. The .8-mile trail opened in the fall.

Basketball Dazzlers! make return to hardwood

The Holmes Community College Dazzlers!, under the direction of first year coach, Keri Cole, returned to the hardwood during this year's basketball season. Pictured above (front row, l-r) are Latonya Williams, Nicole Kersnick, Nickie Strahan; middle row, Sidtoya Townes, Kimberly Newson, Curtissa Dixon and Benita Peacock; back row, Bethany McAdams, Latoya Winters and Amanda Johnsey.

Editors' Note

Cortney Robertson, Phylis Stahl and Jennifer Thompson

Being a part of the 2003-2004 Horizons staff has been a wonderful experience. We have greatly enjoyed the opportunity to get to know each one of the staff members better. We will always treasure the memories made during each class meeting.

There are many people that contribute greatly to the annual that we would like to thank. First of all without Steve Diffey this annual would not be possible. Without his considerable time and energy such as taking pictures, making sure deadlines are met and putting everything in order, this annual would not be filled with the memories you've made while at Holmes. Next we would like to thank Nan Sykes and Jim Williams for their dedication and help in putting this annual together.

We would also like to thank our hard working, dedicated staff. Their eagerness to work and research in writing stories helped make the process of meeting deadlines easier. Thanks to the sophomores who took time out of their busy schedules to put in one more year and to the freshman thanks for getting out there and taking a chance.

Jennifer Thompson, thanks for the many hours you put into this yearbook while serving as editor during first semester. It was a privilege to have worked with you and an experience getting to know you.

In years to come, we hope you will use this as a reminder of your memories made at Holmes. We also hope that the experiences and lessons learned will be valuable to you during life's journey.

In closing we would like to leave you with a famous quote: "Learn from others mistakes because life is too short to make them all yourself."

Colophon

Holmes Community College's 2004 Horizons, Volume 75, consists of 240 pages on a 9x12 format. The book contains 80# paper and a Smyth binding. There are 24 color pages.

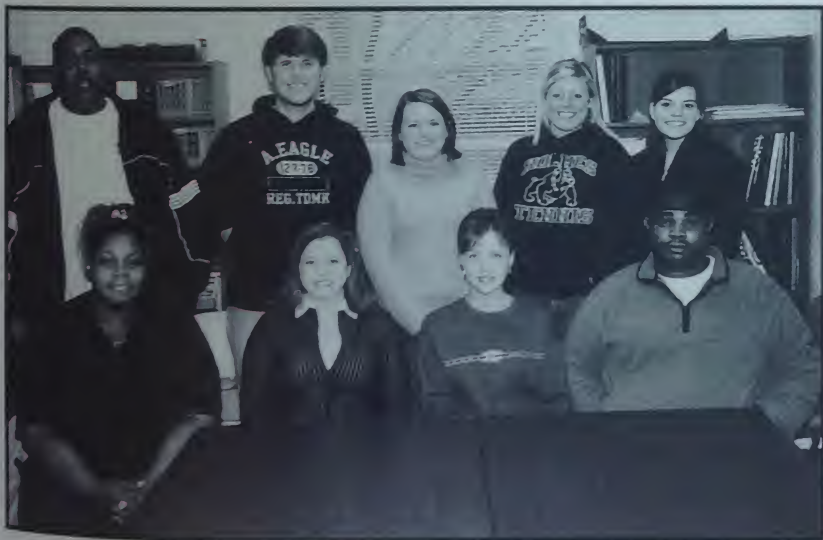

The 1,500 copies of the book were printed at Taylor Publishing Co., Inc., in Dallas, Texas. The sales representative was Ben Allen. The in-plant representative was Tami McConnell.

The cover is lithocote. Endsheets are passport. The Chapel on the Hill painting was rendered by Caleb McAdams of Kosciusko; Stephen Williams of Oklahoma took an image of the drawing and added the theme "Building Our Spirit," Horizons 2004 as well as the spine information. All pages were composed on a Macintosh G4 using PageMaker 7.0 and Photoshop 6.0. Pages were also built using YBPro!

Fonts used include Times, Times New Roman, Arial, Momento, Jefferson Script. On the cover, "Building Our Spirit" was done in various sizes of Jefferson Script. Horizons was 20 point Momento Bold while 2004 was 25 point Jefferson Script. On the spine, all information was in 30 point Momento Bold.

No spot color was used in the yearbook.

Portrait photographs were taken by Southern School Images with headquarters in Jackson and Gulfport. The viewpoints represented in this yearbook are solely of the staff and in no way intend to reflect college policy.
